Report A.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

DEAR BRETHREN—I have not visited all the charges in the district this year, notwithstanding I have driven more miles, preached more sermons and attended more business meetings than I did last year. Some charges, where my services were not needed, were not visited, that I might visit others more than once, where my presence would be of service to pastor and people.

DEATHS.

Before beginning a review of the year's work I am compelled to make announcements that will cause us all sorrow. Death has removed from our ranks those loved and honored by us all. Three of our ministers and five Christian ladies, the wives of ministers, are no longer with us. They live in our memory and by their works.

"The memory of the just is precious."

Rev. R. L. Lewis, died April 13, 1899.

Rev. A. J. Walter, died May 22, 1899.

Rev. J. T. Murray, D.D., died December 30, 1899.

Mrs. Marietta Dickinson Mills, died April 20, 1899.

Mrs. Catherine Ann Ward, died June 1, 1899.

Mrs. Carrie V. Coulbourn, died June 9, 1899.

Mrs. Mary Hood Nelson, died July 5, 1899.

Mrs. M. A. Eversole, died September 13, 1899.

Obituaries have been prepared for publication. The memorial service to be held to-morrow will furnish further opportunity for all, who desire, to express their appreciation of the character and work of these men and women who "are not, for God took them."

CHANGES.

During the year the following changes in appointments have been made: Rev. T. B. Pepper was released from Lawsonia, because of business engagements. Until the latter part of June the work on the charge was done by Rev. L. A. Bennett. Rev. A. G. Dixon was then appointed and remained until the opening of the school at the Seminary. Rev. T. R. Woodford was then released from Accomac and appointed to Lawsonia. The people of Accomac manifested their loyalty to the Conference in consenting to release a popular pastor in the interest of this young church. Rev. Wm. N. Sherwood, a student of the faculty, was appointed assistant pastor on Accomac. Mardela was without a pastor until the latter part of June. Rev. J. H. Straughn was then appointed. Brother Straughn was released in time to enter as a student at the Seminary. Rev. H. L. Murphy was released from Lewistown, August 31, and appointed to fill the vacancy at Mardela. Since Brother Murphy's release, Lewistown has had no pastor, but it has been served by the students of the Seminary under the direction of Dr. H. L. Elderdice. Rev. G. J. Smith was released from Frederica, December 15, on account of poor health, and Rev. H. L. Schlincke was given charge of that work. Subsequently Rev. J. Edgar Smith was sent to assist him.

RESOLUTIONS.

At our last session of the Conference the following resolutions were passed:

Resolved, That the President of the Conference be and hereby is requested to examine pastor's records and quarterly Conference registers and journals, and see that they conform to the order of the Discipline.

I have examined these books as far as practicable and find them generally correct and well kept.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this Conference, that a time limit to the pastorate is desirable, and the President be and is hereby requested to bring the matter before the ministers and churches in his official visits this year, and embody the results in his report to the Conference at its next session.

It is more difficult to make a satisfactory report on this resolution. In its passage you have said, "a time limit is desirable." We have a time limit—one year. I presume that the object was to determine how many consecutive years a pastor should be appointed to one charge. No number of years is named. I have not found it practicable to bring this question before the membership of the churches, because of the hurried nature of my visits and because I saw the people mainly in the public congregation where the consideration of this subject would not have been timely. I report, therefore, that I have not been able to ascertain the opinion of the churches upon this subject.

MATERIAL IMPROVEMENTS.

New churches have been completed at Cumberland, Conquest, Georgetown Circuit, Harper's Ferry, Lawsonia, Millville and Trinity. New churches have been built on Belair, Dorchester, Finksburg, Fox Hill, and Talbot. A new Sunday school room has been built as an addition to Salisbury Church. Many churches have been handsomely and expensively improved. New parsonages have been built on Conquest and Mardela; one is in course of construction at Waltersville. A parsonage has been purchased at Frederick; Beaver Dam parsonage has been rebuilt making it practically new. Other parsonages not mentioned have been very much improved. There has been raised in payment of debts on church property, in building and improvement $55,573.63 with fourteen charges not heard from. The work of finishing North Carolina Avenue Church under the care of the special committee has been so successful that I recommend the continuation of the committee and the re-appointment of the same persons. Fairview Church is practically extinct. Its surroundings are such that it will be impracticable for us to build up their a self-sustaining organization, I recommend, therefor, that it be sold. Pastor's salaries have been increased on some charges, and there are promises of increase on others for next year. From the number of letters from pastors, saying: "We expect to pay the assessments in full," we are justified in looking for an increase in the collections for general interests.

TWENTIETH CENTURY FUND.

The Agent of the Twentieth Century Fund will be able to make a gratifying report; $8,500 have been subscribed. I want to call attention to the fact that only 731 persons, less than one-thirtieth of our membership, have contributed to this fund. The question we ought to consider is, how we can reach the whole membership. If this can be done the $20,000 can be raised. We are manifestly able to do so, since it would be less than two cents a week per member.

BENEVOLENCES.

The Maryland Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society has continued its good work. The interest in the Home for the Aged is increasing, and the contributions to its support will be larger this year. Mrs. T. A. Reese, the Pipe Creek and the Jefferson Benevolent Societies and the St. John's Board of Beneficence have continued their generous contributions to our ministers and churches and should have the thanks of the Conference.

BEQUESTS.

The various interests of the Church have received from deceased members and friends within the bounds of this Conference bequests to the amount of $9,800. The Superannuated Fund Society will receive about $5,000 from the estate of Mrs. H. T. Gernhardt. The Maryland Branch of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society will receive $500 from the estate of Dr. J. T. Murray. Miss Margaret Ferguson left $500 to the Foreign Missionary Society and $200 to Uniontown Methodist Protestant Church. Brother David Shriner left $100 to Uniontown Church. Brother Elisha W. Andrews left property worth not less than $3,500 to Liberty Methodist Protestant Church, on Reliance Circuit. It is provided in the will that in case this church becomes extinct, the whole bequest comes to this Conference, to be known as the "Elisha W. Andrews Fund." I have employed competent counsel to look after this interest.

CHANGE OF RULES.

Inasmuch as it is important that the President of the Conference should have the names of delegates-elect in order to appoint standing committees, and that the pastor of the church that entertains the Conference should also have their names in order to provide for their entertainment. I recommend that the rules be so changed as to direct pastors to send the names of the delegates to the President, Secretary and the pastor of the church where the Conference is to be entertained, as soon as elected. Appreciating the importance of our pastors having our Conference minutes at the very beginning of the Conference year, and realizing that we cannot have them as early as we should, unless provision is made for their publication before the meeting of Conference, I have arranged with Brother Wm. J. C. Dulany for their publication. They will be ready for distribution within one week after the rise of Conference. I recommend that the rules be so changed as to make the Secretary of the Conference and two persons to be appointed by the President, a Committee on Publication of Minutes.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

An enthusiastic and largely attended Christian Endeavor Convention was held in Baltimore under the auspices of the Maryland Conference Union. This is evidence that our Christian Endeavor work throughout the District is in a healthy condition. I suggest the propriety of this Conference having some kind of supervision over these conventions, and by Conference action we endeavor to direct the energies of our young people. I have suggested to the officers of the Union the propriety of reporting to this Conference any facts of general interest and any questions upon which they would like to have your judgment and approval.

SABBATH SCHOOLS.

Two District and two Circuit Sabbath School Conventions have been held during the year. These conventions are helpful and should be continued. I am not able to report the increase of scholars and teachers, but there has been a considerable increase in the amount of our Sabbath school literature used.

CONFERENCE RELIGIOUS SERVICES.

The impression is general that our devotional services at Conference are not as well attended and do not result in as much spiritual profit as they should. Acting upon the theory that services made interesting will be well attended, Brother F. C. Klein conceived the idea of infusing life into them by a choir composed of members of the Conference. Books have been provided, good voices have been in training with the hope that these services will be of more interest and profit than usual.

THE SPIRITUAL CONDITION OF THE DISTRICT.

After having reported to you matters of a purely business character, I come to that which is of greater importance, viz., the spiritual condition of the District. This you will find by the reports to be made is very gratifying. When the individual or the church is right spiritually, everything else will be right. Factions and feuds will disappear. Old sores will be healed. Inspired by one spirit, people will see eye to eye. This is the only true basis of harmony and success. This has been a year of revivals, sweeping and glorious. We have seen something of the old-time Methodist fire and power. The latter part of September, sharing with the rest of you the prevalent anxiety concerning the spiritual condition of the churches, I recommended that the first week in October be observed in all our churches as a "Week of Prayer" for revivals. This, I think, was generally done. Very soon I began to receive reports from pastors concerning these meetings, giving evidence of their burning desire that the Lord would revive His work. Meetings were begun by them with a determination to succeed. Some idea of the success of their labors has been obtained from the reports that have been published in THE PROTESTANT. But there has been a great deal of earnest work done, and a great many souls saved and added to the Church about which nothing has been said. Pastors' reports to me show that there have been 3,547 conversions and 2,915 accessions to our membership, with fourteen charges not heard from. Plain, practicable preaching, "not with enticing words of man's wisdom, but in the demonstration of the Spirit and the power," accompanied by practical hand to hand and heart to heart work, will save men now as well as of old.

What we need is more men, who will not only go to these spiritually lame men and women, providentially sitting at the beautiful Gospel gate at the entrance of Christ's kingdom and preach Jesus to them, bid them in His name rise up and walk, but men who will lovingly take them by the right hand and lift them up, and at every annual assembling we may be able to rejoice over the victories won and souls saved.

Respectfully,

A. D. MELVIN.

Report D.*REPORT OF THE EDUCATIONAL ENDOWMENT SOCIETY OF THE METHODIST PROTESTANT CHURCH OF BALTIMORE CITY.

BALTIMORE, March 30, 1900.

To the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church:

This Society, in accordance with its charter, respectfully reports that no change during the year has occurred in its financial status and in its relation to Western Maryland College.

Respectfully submitted,

J. D. KINZER, President,

E. J. DRINKHOUSE, Secretary.

Report E.*REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

Your committee on President's Report respectfully submit the following:

We rejoice in the large measure of success that has crowned the labors of the year. The history of the Conference during the year is a record of which none who helped to make it need be ashamed, and for which all should be profoundly grateful to Almighty God.

We especially rejoice in the gracious and extensive revivals with which many of the charges have been visited. The arm of the Lord has been made brave, and there has been heard around our altars the shout of victory. More than thirty-five hundred souls are reported as having been converted, and nearly three thousand persons have been added to the church. Let us thank God and take courage.

We approve the course of the President in visiting those charges where, in his judgment, his visits were most needed. With every year it becomes increasingly difficult for the President to reach all the charges of the district. There are churches that do not so greatly need his visits. There are others where his presence, his preaching, his counsel, and his supervision are of decided advantage to the church and its work. It is wisdom for the President to place his labors where it will accomplish the most good.

We are pleased to learn of the continued generosity of Mrs. Tanisey A. Reese, the Pipe Creek and the Jefferson Benevolent Societies, and the St. John's Board of Benificence, and hereby express the hearty thanks of the Conference therefor.

We would express our appreciation of the generous bequests that have come to certain of our churches and church interests from deceased members and friends. We sorrow that these godly men and women have gone out from us, but we rejoice that, though not with us in the body, they are with us in influence for good. Though dead they live in our thoughts and in the hearts of men made better by their deeds. There are nobler monuments than those of bronze and marble; there is a higher distinction than that won on the battlefield for deeds of valor; there are grander deeds than the sinking of an enemy's fleets or the capture of a conquered foe, and better than all earthly fame is the undying immortality of those who are remembered for the good that they have done by their wise and generous benefactions.

In accordance with the suggestion of the President we recommend the continuation of the committee on the North Carolina Avenue Church, and the reappointment of those persons now constituting the committee. We also recommend that the Fairview Church property be sold.

We approve the recommendation that the Conference Rules of Order be so changed as to direct the pastors to send the names of delegates to the President of the Conference and to the pastor of the church where the Conference is to be entertained immediately after the election of the same.

We also approve the recommendation that the Rules of Order be so changed as to make the Secretary and two persons to be named by the President a Committee on Publication of Minutes.

Supplementary Report of the Committee on President's Report.

We recommend that that part of the Report which refers to Sabbath Schools be referred to the Committee on Sabbath Schools.

We recommend that that part of the Report which refers to Christian Endeavor Conventions be referred to the Committee on Christian Endeavor.

We are pleased to learn of the formation of a choir composed of members of this body for service in the religious meetings held during the Conference sessions, and recommend that recognition be given to this organization as a Conference choir.

We also recommend that the books purchased for use in the services be paid for by this Conference by public collection.

Report F.*REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON CREDENTIALS.

Your Committee on Credentials beg leave to report that they have carefully examined the credentials of the delegates, one hundred and twenty-nine in number, and find all correct in form. We also find that Rev. N. T. Meginniss is the delegate-elect from the North Baltimore Station, and as the Electoral College is to meet at this session of Conference, we find that according to Article VIII, Section 3, of the Constitution, Brother Meginniss is not eligible as a delegate at this session of Conference.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON CAMP MEETING.

Your committee, to whom was referred the resolution offered by J. L. Straughn, beg leave to report as follows:

We recommend that the fifth item of the Camp-meeting regulations be rescinded and the following adopted in its place:

"In the absence of a request and a pledge such as are named above, the President shall not appoint such ministerial supply, nor shall any member of this Conference conduct such camp meeting as pastor.

"Appointees to camp-meeting service must be given four weeks' notice of their appointment. If they find it inconvenient to attend they shall promptly present their excuse to the President. Report L.*REPORT OF THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON BALTIMORE CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

Your Committee, to whom was referred the Report of the Baltimore City Church Extension Society, beg leave to submit the following recommendations:

We are pleased to learn of the prosperity of the churches under the care of the Baltimore City Church Extension Society and recommend that Waverly and Bethany be continued under the supervision of said Society.

We are also gratified to learn of the splendid progress of North Baltimore Church. We believe that church no longer needs the assistance of the Baltimore City Church Extension Society, and we recommend that the said Society be relieved of all responsibility for the payment of ground rent on North Baltimore Church. Said ground rent is paid to January 1, 1900.

In view of the possibility of the Baltimore City Church Extension Society liquidating its debt of $1,100.00, we recommend that the claim of $400.00 held by the Maryland Conference Church Extension Society be cancelled. The said Baltimore City Church Extension Society to comply with conditions mentioned in its report to this Conference, viz., to raise remainder of its debt of $700.00 within 60 days from rise of Conference, and to contract no more debts and build no more churches on leasehold ground.

J. D. KINZER, Chairman.

L. F. WARNER.

REPORT OF THE BALTIMORE CITY CHURCH EXTENSION SOCIETY.

In making our annual report to you we are gratified to state that the past year has been one of reasonable prosperity in the work of our Society. The churches under our care, Waverly and Bethany, have made at least average progress. Peace and harmony have prevailed in both churches. The congregations at Waverly have been uniformly good. They report a Sunday School of 250 scholars, a Christian Endeavor Society of 35 members, and a Junior C. E. Society of 75 members.

There have been 56 conversions and 52 members added to the church during the year.

Improvements have been added amounting to $150.00, all of which is paid for. Rev. J. F. Bryan has been industrious and faithful in his work.

Bethany reports 6 conversions and 5 members received.

Improvements to the amount of $300.00 have been made, all of which is paid for but $35.00.

The church now presents a neat and attractive appearance, and the work done reflects credit on the pastor, Rev. George W. Hines.

Our Society has been retarded in extending its work by the lack of funds. The decrease in the Conference appropriations and the many other local interests preventing us from securing money, have both lessened our income.

It will be gratifying to the Conference as well as the whole Maryland District to learn of the splendid progress made at North Baltimore. The constantly increasing congregations and additions to the membership, particularly of our own people, who are locating in that part of the city, give every assurance, at an early day, of a church in numerical and financial strength second to none of our churches in Baltimore.

The ground rent on this church has been paid to January 1, 1900.

At the Annual Meeting of the Society held January 8, 1900, a resolution was passed to the effect that North Baltimore Church and the Maryland Annual Conference both be notified that this Society can not be responsible for said ground rent after the above named date, viz. January 1, 1900.

This action was taken after a careful consideration of the financial condition of the Society, which plainly showed there would be no available funds with which to make further payment.

This Society owes $1,100.00. The Maryland Conference Church Extension Society holds a claim of $400.00 of this amount.

We respectfully make to the Conference this proposition: That if the Maryland Conference Church Extension Society will release the Baltimore City Church Extension Society from this claim, said Society will obligate itself to raise the balance of indebtedness of $700.00 within sixty days from the rise of this Conference, and thus wipe out this long-standing debt which has so greatly hindered the work and progress of the Society.

We further promise that this Society will contract no more debts, and will build no more churches on leasehold ground. We believe that with all debts paid, and with this new departure there is a field of great promise and usefulness for this Society in planting new churches in parts of the City of Baltimore now being rapidly built up and to which our own people are moving.

We request that this report be referred to a Special Committee.

J. M. SHERIDAN, President.

Report N.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TEMPERANCE.

Your Committee on Temperance beg leave to report the following:

The chief peril and curse of our so-called Christian nation today is the saloon. The saloon rules the majority of our great cities. The cities rule the nation.

The saloon business, in all its forms and phases of character, is undoubtedly the greatest foe to domestic peace, social order and public prosperity.

These indictments, dark and forboding as they are, are not overdrawn, as is evident to all who have but casually examined the doings of the blasting, blighting and ruinous business of the liquor traffic. Viewed from every point, the liquor business is our greatest danger.

The saloon business is not only the most fearful waste of this or any other land, but the greatest curse known to Christian civilization.

The most solemn and terrible woes of God's Word are against the wickedness of the drink evil, which declares that no drunkard shall inherit the Kingdom of Heaven.

Your Committee deploras the continuation of the "army canteen," which is nothing less than a beer and whisky saloon in the encampments of our soldiers, and the attitude toward the same as taken by the President of the United States, Wm. McKinley, in that the decision of Attorney-General Griggs should stand, notwithstanding the petitions and pleadings of hundreds of thousands of our countrymen, and the decision of the United States Congress against the canteen system; and by so doing taking upon himself the responsibility for whatever of drunkenness may result therefrom.

In said decision, the President of the United States, who is Commander-in-Chief of the army and navy, and therefore having power to use his authority in the removing of the said canteen system, and persistently refusing to use such power, merits the censure of the temperance and Christian people throughout our entire land.

The saloon exists by the permission of law. That which is necessary to its overthrow is to put the huge machine called "Government" against it. In all countries the clergy or ministers of the Gospel is the largest single force for the moulding of public opinion and the controlling of public action:

Therefore be it resolved, That in order to OBTAIN and RETAIN our supremacy over the saloon, we must present a united front to the enemy.

We may have our differences, but let us NOT be divided on this most important issue of this generation.

Resolved further, That while the churches as such need not declare for any political party, they ought to declare that church members, as individuals, should support no political party which does not declare itself against the saloon. In this we express our fidelity to conviction and duty.

It is a well-known fact that no plan or method is worth anything unless it be reduced to practice. The only successful way of dealing with the saloon is that given in the word of God, viz: To take it up by the roots.

The conclusion of the London Times is irresistible, which is that "we must somehow end this evil or it will end us."

Dear Brethren of the Conference: We must end the saloon by ending the law which makes possible the saloon.

In the name of Jesus Christ as King, the saloon OUGHT to go—and MUST go. Your committee would most sincerely call attention to the declaration of the General Conference, prohibiting our members from signing liquor dealers' petitions, or in any other manner giving aid or sanction to the traffic; and where they persist in the same, after being duly admonished, should be dealt with according to the law of the church governing such conduct.

We most heartily commend the noble and heroic efforts of the "National Christian Citizenship and Anti-Saloon Leagues," the splendid and persistent efforts of the Women's Christian Temperance Union in their many departments of work, the Loyal Legion, and all other similar organizations whose end is the overthrow of the saloon.

We recommend that our ministers of the Gospel preach at stated times during the year upon the subject of temperance, and use their influence in the Sunday-schools and Christian Endeavor Societies toward faithfully teaching the subject of temperance and seeing to it that the temperance topics in the regular course of lessons be faithfully used.

We give our hearty endorsement to the plan of the temperance service, which is held annually at the place of the Annual Conference, and hope the same may be continued.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

F. H. MULLINEAUX, Chairman.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON MISSIONS.

The following report is respectfully submitted by your Committee on Missions:

Official statements have been made to your committee by the president of the Board of Home Missions, Rev. W. M. Strayer, and by the secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, Rev. T. J. Ogburn. Due consideration has also been given to Rev. E. H. Van Dyke's letter and the papers referred to your committee.

State of Work.

Home Missions—The work of Home Missions is improving, but it is seriously hindered by lack of funds, and the failure of pastors to take the collection for this cause early in the Conference year, and promptly forward the same. The Board has recently secured a fee simple guarantee to all our church property, consisting of four churches and one parsonage, in Seattle, Washington. There are other pleasing evidences of prosperity in our broad field of Home Missions, and the executive conduct of the work is altogether satisfactory.

Foreign Missions—It is noted with extraordinary interest that the Japan Mission Conference, now in its ninth annual session at Shizuoka, will report an encouraging increase in membership, sixty-two persons having joined our churches there in six months. We have six missionaries and sixteen native helpers, and they are all efficient and successful. Their work and influence as witnessed and reported by Rev. Dr. F. E. Clark, President of United Society of Christian Endeavors, in an article published in the Methodist Protestant of April 5, 1900, is particularly gratifying. The writer says of Brother U. S. Murphy: "Mr. Murphy is doing a unique work for the Mikado's Empire. He has enlisted in the cause of social purity, and is known throughout Japan as the most valiant fighter for the cause of Japan's unfortunate daughters." Brother Murphy ought to have the sympathy and prayers of our church, while he suffers "persecution for righteousness' sake." The prohibition in Japan of all religious instructions in schools claiming governmental recognition and privileges is sadly disappointing to all Mission teachers, who had hoped the new treaty which went into effect July 17, 1899, would remove restrictions hitherto interfering with schools which did not teach the government course. The accession of Rev. J. W. Frank and his wife to the ranks of our missionaries was timely; and subsequent developments have proved the wisdom of the Board in sending these faithful servants of God to the foreign field. Rev. G. Maruyama, a native missionary, will come to America next May and remain until November, for the purpose of visiting our churches in the interest of foreign missions. The increase of nearly $1,500.00 in the receipts of the Board for the past year, over those of the year immediately preceding it, is cause for gratitude; but the fact that there have been smaller receipts through bequests, etc., has reduced the income below the amount of expenditures, and, therefore, calls for unusual generosity everywhere. The work of the W. F. M. S. continues with exemplary zeal and characteristic faithfulness. It deserves and should receive the hearty support of our people and pastors. It is with profound pleasure that your committee observes that Miss Lawrence is now establishing work in China. These are our recommendations:

First—We recommend that pastors make an extra effort to raise the assessment in full for Home Mission early in the Conference year, and immediately forward the same to the treasurer of that Board.

Second—We recommend that special efforts be put forth to increase contributions to the work of Foreign Missions, and that Rev. G. Maruyama be cordially received by our churches and pastors, and heard wherever he may wish to speak in the interest of the cause represented by him.

Third—We recommend that Children's Day be observed by all our Sunday schools, and that the money received on this occasion be exclusively devoted to Children's Day offering for the work of Foreign Missions.

Fourth—We recommend that the Ecumenical Conference on Foreign Missions to be held in New York city, April 21 to May 1, be given our earnest prayers and material support.

Fifth—We recommend that the reports of the Maryland and the Washington and the Alexandria branches of the W. F. M. S. be printed in the minutes of this Conference.

Sixth—We recommend that special prayers be offered for the recovery of Brother Smith, who is still suffering of illness resulting from his labors in Japan.

REPORT OF MARYLAND BRANCH WOMAN'S FOREIGN MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

The Maryland Branch Woman's Foreign Missionary Society, Methodist Protestant Church, send greetings and prayers for God's special blessing on the Maryland Annual Conference, Methodist Protestant Church, Westminster, Md., April, 1900.

We are still marching on, trusting our Master for results.

We regret that the Maryland Branch is not as fully organized as it should be. Of about 110 appointments, only thirty have auxiliaries to the Woman's Society. Allowing one-half or fifty-five of these not to be in a position to have an auxiliary, that would leave a balance of fifty-five appointments, on which we ought to be organized. What a vast amount of good would be accomplished. It is not unreasonable to petition the Ministers of the Conference to become active along our line of work.

The Branch has been sorely bereaved by the going away from us of Rev. J. T. Murray. He is missed so much, but has only "gone before," and it is our privilege to meet again. He was deeply interested in our work and remembered us with a legacy of $500. Thus he helps the good work to go on while he rests with God.

Work in Japan is continuing, with prospects of an abundant harvest.

Our entering China has been accompanied with the blessing of our Father. Total receipts to date $1,441.91.

Respectfully,

KATE HUPFIELD,

Cor. Sec. Md. Br. W. F. M. S.

Report P.

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON MINISTERIAL RELIEF.

Your committee, to whom was referred the paper on mutual relief, respectfully report that they have considered the matter presented in that paper, and they recommend as the best arrangement for carrying out the worthy design in view, that:

1. The Annual Conference, upon the adoption of this report, shall adjourn for the purpose of giving the ministerial members an opportunity to organize into a Mutual Relief Association, which shall have the same relation to this Conference as the Superannuated Fund Society. The President of the Conference shall be ex-officio President of the Association, and other officers shall be elected and the organization perfected by the adoption of the Constitution and By-Laws of the present Mutual Relief Association, with the exception that the fee in case of death of a member instead of being $5.10 shall be $1.00, and that instead of promising to pay all that can be collected from members the promise to pay shall be all collected less the cost of collecting it.

2. We recommend that in making this organization the names of all ministerial members be enrolled, unless they prohibit the same, and that the whole ministerial membership be regarded as holding membership until they shall order their names removed or refuse to pay on the death of a member.

3. We recommend that this shall apply also to those entering the Conference membership. Their names shall be entered by virtue of their conference membership, and they shall continue on the roll until they order their names erased or until they refuse to pay on the death of a member. But in both the above cases the Secretary shall inform them by letter of the fact that their names have been entered and upon what action of this Conference this has been done.

4. We recommend that members of the old Relief Association, who are widows and the wives of the members of this Conference, shall be eligible to membership on the same terms as the members of the Conference.

J. L. MILLS,
T. H. LEWIS,
F. C. KLEIN.

COMMITTEE ON LITERATURE.

Your Committee on Literature beg leave to report as follows:

1. Book Directory.

We have carefully examined the report of the Baltimore Book Directory submitted to us, and have had the pleasure of personal statements from those intimately connected with the business of the concern. We are sorry to learn that there is a slight decrease in the number of subscribers to the METHODIST PROTESTANT, in the Maryland district, and that the income of the directory from the sale of books and other sources are not as large as in former years.

The brethren of the board have met the situation with shrewd business intelligence and a wise system of retrenchments in the expense account, has reduced the deficit to a nominal figure. As a further means of retrenchment, we suggest that the credit system as applied to the subscribers to the METHODIST PROTESTANT be discontinued as far as possible. We believe that it is neither reasonable nor good business policy to continue the paper to a delinquent subscriber longer than six months after his subscription has expired.

We believe that the METHODIST PROTESTANT deserves, and has the right to expect, the hearty and enthusiastic support of every member of this Conference, and of the church at large. This universal support it is not receiving at present. We urge upon the ministry a more earnest insistence upon the fact that every loyal Methodist Protestant ought to be a reader of the official organ of the Methodist Protestant Church. In this connection your committee recommend that the discussion of the METHODIST PROTESTANT be made the "order of the day," for Thursday 3 P.M., next conference.

Your committee takes pleasure in affirming that the editor has maintained the paper at the high standard established for it by the intelligent and consecrated labor of the founders. In a manner at once fearless and forceful, he has brought to us from week to week the burning convictions of his soul—he has interpreted for us the great questions of the secular world in the light of their relation to the gospel of the cross, and has gathered around him a corps of contributors who have enlightened and inspired us by their fervent piety and cultured wisdom. We feel that in form, in typography, in the character of its contributors and in the spirit that animates it, the METHODIST PROTESTANT is eminently worthy as an exponent of the Gospel of Jesus Christ as proclaimed by the Methodist Protestant Church.

Our Sabbath School publications are still prospering, a large increase of circulation is noted for the present fiscal year. These publications are well-conducted, as good as the best, and "our own;" no other should be substituted for them in our Sabbath-schools. It has been our esteemed privilege to have with us at this session of the conference, the genial and cultured editor of these publications, Dr. C. E. Wilbur. We rejoice with him in the success of his labors.

2. The Twentieth Century Fund.

We have received the report of the agent of the Twentieth Century Fund, Rev. F. T. Tagg, D.D. We have carefully audited his accounts and find them correct. We record the gratitude we feel in the fact that this fund has already reached the total of $9,000, and that $3,480.50 of this amount has been received in cash.

The speedy completion of this work will settle, we believe, some of the questions that now vex us. The report of progress encourages us, but as not one-twentieth of our membership has yet contributed to this fund much remains to be done. We recommend that the present agent be continued, and every pulpit not yet visited, shall be freely opened to him for the statement of his cause. We further recommend that during the coming year, a day be set apart in every charge, that has not so far held such a service, for the holding of a Twentieth Century service, and that a card, such as is provided by the conference committee, be placed in the hand of every member, with an earnest solicitation that he make a contribution to the fund.

3. Books.

In regard to the communication from the Baltimore Preachers' Meeting, your committee is unanimous in its most hearty approval of the strong words of commendation therein concerning the "History of Methodist Reform," by the Rev. E. J. Drinkhouse, D.D. The book deserves a wider recognition than it has yet received. It is the product of a life-time of pains-taking research. It is the only accurate history of the Methodism of Wesley yet published in this country. Its facts are indisputable, its spirit kind, its style chaste, its mission world-wide. We especially commend to the conference the last resolution of the series submitted to us upon this subject.

Resolved, "That inasmuch as loyalty to the church depends not only upon our love for her blessed doctrines and precious songs, but upon an intelligent conception of her governmental polity as well, we, therefore, earnestly urge on all our ministers a careful study of this valuable book, and that in so far as they are able, to secure for it an entrance into the homes of all our laity, believing that this bread cast upon the waters will bring to us returns in loyalty, intelligence and thanksgiving, for citizenship in a church without a bishop, in a state without a king."

We also take pleasure in commending to the conference a pamphlet of reminiscence by Rev. Lawrence Webster Bates, D.D. Whatever comes to us from our venerable friend and brother, will always be joyfully received by us. For the love we bear him, which has grown fonder with the passing years, and for the wisdom that never fails to inspire his utterances, we welcome this new deliverance into our hearts and homes.

A book by Rev. David Wilson, M.D., entitled "Young Man's Chart Lessons for the Voyage of Life," is in our hands. This book is a valuable addition to our literature. In fitting and beautiful language, and with accomplished tact and strong thought, the author treats the career of a young man from the standpoint of long experience and tender affection. We agree with the statement in the preface to the book, "Every young man in the land should read it."

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON FRATERNAL RELATIONS.

Your Committee on Fraternal Relations report the following:

Concerning the papers submitted to us we recommend—

That the request of St. John's Independent Methodist Churches for the loan of Rev. J. S. Bowers, as pastor for the ensuing year, be granted.

Also, that the request of the Board of General Home Missions, for the loan of Rev. T. P. Revelle for the present year, be granted.

We recommend that the loan of Rev. E. H. Van Dyke to the Board of Foreign Missions be continued.

We greet with pleasure Rev. C. L. Queen, fraternal messenger from the West Virginia Conference, and recommend that the President of this Conference appoint fraternal messengers to that body at its next session.

Inasmuch as the pastor and members of this church and the friends of Westminster have placed the Conference under many obligations for hospitable entertainment and for favors and attention which have contributed greatly to the comfort and pleasure of our sojourn in their midst, the Conference hereby tender to them its heartfelt thanks.

That the thanks of the Conference be extended to the Postmaster of this city for special favors provided in mail facilities, and also to Mr. Walter M. Graham for his efficient services as Conference postmaster.

We tender to the press of Westminster and of Baltimore City, for the publication of the proceedings of the session, our appreciative acknowledgement.

We desire especially to express our thanks to the President and Trustees of Western Maryland College for the use of "Alumni Hall," and the delightful reception given to the Conference and friends at the College.

That the railroads and steamboats giving reduced rates to the Conference receive our thanks for the same.

Report U.

COMMITTEE ON EDUCATION.

Your Committee on Education submits the following:

We are deeply gratified to read the excellent results of the work of the year of Western Maryland College. Every year our hearts are gladdened with the announcement of new enterprises either begun or completed. Last year we were delighted with the story of the completion of Alumni Hall, and, as we have viewed the beautiful and imposing structure, we cannot but feel rejoiced in heart and elated in spirit that our college owns such a property. It is surely one of the best buildings of the kind in the State, and must, indeed, give great prestige to our educational cause. This year we have made to us the announcement of additional material improvements. The main building has been enlarged by constructing an annex to Smith Hall, so that new school rooms, a new dormitory and especially a gymnasium for the girls have been provided. Is not this particularly gratifying? We enter heartily into the desire of the President for still another building, even a Library Building. We do not believe we have too many buildings on College Hill. Each new structure makes the sight more imposing, speaks of solidity, argues progress, advancement and success, and what is of particular importance, wins new students. The argument which clinches and decides many a wavering prospective student, is either the sight of a new building rising, or knowledge that it is going to rise. May our ears next conference be greeted with the declaration that the Library Building is a fact.

The student roll is evermore important in college life and history. We are glad to know that it compares so favorably with other years, but, because of its exceeding importance to the success of the college, it demands the serious attention of our conference. We urge upon pastors the importance of sending the names of possible students to the president, so that he may enter into correspondence with them or their parents. When we say possible student, we mean not only those who have reached the age to enter college, but those who are some years under such an age; for, if we can interest them in the college before they reach the age for entering, when they do attain the age, we shall have secured such a place in their good will, that our college will be selected in preference to others.

The report submitted by the Board of Governors of Westminster Theological Seminary gives to us much which is encouraging. Fourteen students are enrolled, and these fourteen come from widely separated parts of our country, which indicate the general interest taken in the Seminary. The continued interest of local churches is indicated by the contributions for various specific purposes. Three churches this year have paid for the furnishing of rooms, and we express our earnest hope that local churches will seek to bind their interest to the Seminary by contributing to some specific enterprise of that institution.

The free scholarship feature of the work promises much. There are now six such scholarships, and when it is remembered that these scholarships are bestowed upon worthy students who would be compelled to leave the Seminary were it not for this help, we see how important they are, and the ground for congratulation that this feature is so promising. We regret to state that there is a deficiency in the seminary collection for this year amounting to $268.87. We make the following recommendations:

1. That the request of the Board of Governors for the appointment of H. L. Elderdice to the presidency, and of B. F. Benson to a professorship for the ensuing year be granted.
2. That pastors bring before their churches and well-to-do laymen the need of establishing permanent free scholarships.
3. That pastors and stewards do their utmost to collect in full the seminary assessment, and forward the same before the end of the conference year.

4. That a collection be lifted at this session of the conference to meet the deficiency in the assessment for the year just ended.

5. That the secretary of the conference cast the ballot for the reappointment of L. W. Bates, J. D. Kinzer, J. M. Gill, J. W. Hering and W. J. C. Dulany as members of the Board of Governors of the Westminster Theological Seminary.

We have learned with extreme pleasure of the success of the Kansas City University; 375 students have been registered in the different departments. Of this number, 100 are in the literary department. There is one building completed; and $5,000 have been subscribed for a new building. The total value of the property is $200,000. The electric road from Kansas City has been finished, and now passes the college campus. The Western conferences are loyal to the university, and enthusiastic in its support. We call attention to this new educational institution as being of general church interest, and not purely local. We suggest that, if a representative of the university wishes to visit any of the charges in the interest of the university, pastors, in so far as it is possible, open the way for such a visit. Respectfully submitted,

J. W. KIRK, Chairman.

REPORT OF THE PRESIDENT OF WESTERN MARYLAND COLLEGE.

To the Maryland Annual Conference:

I present my fourteenth annual report of the condition and prospects of Western Maryland College.

In point of equipment and efficiency I think it cannot be doubted that the condition of the college is better than ever. During the vacation of last summer we spent nearly twelve thousand dollars in enlarging our buildings and providing new and better accommodations for students. We have fitted up new school rooms and a dormitory hall for preparatory students. A gymnasium for the special use of girls has been provided in the new annex to Smith Hall. The dining room has been enlarged to take in the whole floor of Smith Hall, and the kitchen, pantries and store-rooms removed to the new building. The Literary Societies have been transferred to their new rooms in Alumni Hall, and the rooms occupied formerly by them have been thrown together to make an ideal studio for the art department.

Our equipment has been increased by addition to the College Library, an additional piano, and a gift from Mrs. Ulie Norment Hurley, of Washington, D. C., has enabled us to place a new library in the Preparatory School of 600 volumes selected with reference to boy's reading solely.

But busy as these changes have kept us during the year, we have not been able to keep pace with the demands of the progressive growth of the institution. The college grows by what it feeds upon, and its appetite will never be appeased until it becomes moribund, which may the kind Providence which has so long protected it forbid. It sometimes excites among the friends of the college a rather incredulous smile when I speak of the needs of the college. They suspect I lie awake at nights thinking up things to ask for, but this is so far from being the case that much as I pray for sleep sometimes, these demands come like sentinels about my bedside and will not suffer me to forget that I have not told the people about them, and they will not sleep. There is only one way to lay a college ghost, and that is to give it what it asks. I have exercised much patience and forbore to burden the Church with multiplied demands. One thing at a time is my motto; and now that Alumni Hall is completed and stands a noble motto to the love and generosity of the graduates and friends of the college, there is an opportunity to lay another great need before you. Besides this monument of the loyal sons and daughters of the college, we have another monument to the demands of physical culture, so that whoever enters the campus will see by this building that we care for the bodies of students. Another monument will show to visitors that we care for the souls of students, as they gaze upon the graceful pearl of our buildings, Baker Chapel. Now we want another monument, a monument to literature, the signature of the culture the college stands for as a whole. We want to place in the very center of all our attractive structures, a College Library Building. "This is the first time of asking."

Our student roll is well up to the mark of previous years, but we have room for more and we ought to fill our buildings. Our present faculty and our facilities could take care of fifty more students without increasing the expenses of the institution. I trust we may be able to carry forward a strenuous canvas this summer and increase materially our patronage for next year. To this end I solicit correspondence with our pastors and information from any source, to aid me in reaching prospective students.

There is no change to report in the financial status of the college. Our affairs are in good shape and ought not to give us any inconvenience. We are assured of the continued patronage of the State students. Our faculty are working together harmoniously, and our relations with students are pleasant. We desire nothing but opportunity, the co-operation of our friends and the continued favor of Heaven, to insure the success of the college. The first we cannot escape, the second we expect, and the third we pray for.

Respectfully submitted,

T. H. LEWIS, President.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE WESTMINSTER THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.

To the Maryland Conference:

DEAR BRETHREN: The condition and prospect of the Westminster Theological Seminary are highly gratifying to all friends of the institution. Fourteen students are enrolled, seven of whom are college graduates; six of these are Western Maryland College alumni and one is an Adrian alumnus. Ohio, New York, New Jersey, Missouri and West Virginia Conferences have each one student; North Carolina has three; and Maryland has six. Next Commencement, Frederick James Phillips, of Sharptown, Maryland, Edgar Adgate Sexsmith, of Antioch, Missouri, and James Lawrence Nichols, of Oxford, Maryland, will graduate with certificates; and Roby Franklin Day, A. B., of Damascus, Maryland, will graduate with the degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

The work of material improvement has been continued during the year. Mount Pleasant Church, Crisfield, has furnished a student's room for $25; and St James has done the same at a cost of $35. Mt. Lebanon contributed $26, for two iron tubs for the bath-room. Mrs. T. H. Lewis has donated six valuable pictures for the adornment of Ward Chapel. Halls have been painted, fruit and shade trees have been planted and other improvements made possible by the following contributions: Beavor Dam, $5.09; Deer Creek, $7.11; Georgetown, Delaware, $10; Milton, $11.04; Chesapeake, $20; Mrs. T. A. Reese, $50; and legacy from Mrs. S. E. Rawlings, Virginia, $30. Mrs. Rawling's local church was Ebenezer, North Carolina Conference.

The most promising feature of the year's work is the increase in free scholarships. Beneficiaries of the Board of Ministerial Education after spending four years in college graduate with a debt of about $500. To prevent the hardship of a heavier debt from which they could not free themselves for many years, the president of the seminary has made special effort to secure from churches and well-to-do laymen free scholarships of $100 annually. The result for this year is as follows: Trinity Church, $100; N. T. Meginniss, $100; Joseph D. Baker, $100; a Layman, $100; W. J. C. Dulany, $100; North Carolina Friends, $100. Lesser amounts have been given to aid needy students; but the donors modestly refuse to allow the publication of their names. It is the conviction of the seminary authorities that if this institution is to do the best possible work for the church, it must secure permanent free scholarships for college graduates.

The Board is pleased to announce that Dr. E. J. Drinkhouse continues his Prize for Extemporaneous Debate, and that two new ones have been founded, viz.: the Dr. J. W. Hering Hebrew Prize and the E. O. Grimes New Testament Greek Prize. The Special Course of Lectures has been of high standard and delivered by Revs. S. K. Spahr and R. T. Tyson, of the New York Conference; C. L. Queen, of the West Virginia Conference; Rev. P. H. Miller, of the Lutheran Church, Westminster; Dr. J. C. Berrien, of the Board of Ministerial Education; Professors Simpson and Watts, of Western Maryland College; and from the Maryland Conference Revs. S. B. Tredway, W. J. Neeper, J. M. Sheridan, C. S. Arnett, A. D. Melvin, J. B. Jones, Dr. D. L. Greenfield and Dr. J. L. Mills.

By the death of Dr. J. T. Murray the Board has lost one of its most active and judicious members. The vacancy has been filled by the election of Rev. J. M. Gill. The financial report shows that only $1,666.17 have been paid on the $1,800 assessment, leaving a balance now due of $133.83. The Conference secretary reported $32.00 cash on the subscription to meet last year's deficiency; since received, $87.00, making a cash total of $119.00, with a balance on unpaid subscriptions of $28.00.

The Board respectfully presents the following requests:

1. The appointment of Hugh L. Elderdice to the Presidency, and B. F. Benson to a Professorship for the ensuing year.
2. That pastors bring before their churches and well-to-do laymen the need of establishing permanent free scholarships.
3. That pastors and stewards do their utmost to collect in full the seminary assessment and forward the same before the end of the Conference year.
4. That a collection be lifted to meet the deficiency in the assessment for the year just ended.

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

It is gratifying to note that the Annual Convention held in Alnutt Memorial Church, Baltimore, last February, and the Conference Rally held in Alumni Hall last Wednesday night were by far the most enthusiastic and successful of any like meetings in the history of our Conference Union.

We are pleased to report that 29 societies have pledged $845.00 of the $2,000.00 assumed by the Maryland Conference Union for the Thank-Offering Fund. It is to be hoped that every society in the Conference will make a special contribution to the said fund by January 1, 1901. We recommend:

First—That the President of the Conference become an ex-officio member of the Executive Committee of the Conference C. E. Union.

Second—That our Conference hold a convention next February and that the Executive Committee make necessary arrangements for said convention.

Third—That Wednesday of the next session of the Conference be set apart for a C. E. Sunday school Rally.

Fourth—That the addresses of the corresponding secretaries and superintendents of Junior Societies be added after their names in the Christian Endeavor blanks on the pastor's reports.

Your Committee on Christian Endeavor Work has carefully considered all matters coming before it and respectfully submits the following report:

Number of societies—Juniors, 48; Young People, 117; Senior, 2. A decrease in Junior Societies compared with last year, 7. An increase in Young People's Societies, 6. Two Senior Societies organized during the year.

Membership.—Juniors, active, associate and honorary, 2,027. Young People, active, associate and honorary, 4,774. Senior, active and associate 73; making a total membership of 6,874, a net increase compared with the report of last year of 590.

Number of meetings held during the year by all societies, 7,180, an increase over last year of 1,576.

Contributions for all purposes $3,495.91, of which amount $373.88 was contributed toward Foreign Missions.

Conversions during the year 201—60 more than last year.

While this report is not all that we could wish, as a whole, the Christian Endeavor work throughout the district is encouraging. On some of the charges the work is very gratifying indeed. In churches where the interest in Christian Endeavor is on the decline, and where we have no societies at all, we respectfully urge the pastors and members of said churches to make, during the year, special effort to reorganize depleted societies, and also to organize new ones in churches where none exist at present. And that the Christian Endeavor pledge be the basis of all such organizations.

Respectfully submitted,

G. W. HADDAWAY, Chairman.

Report BB.*REPORT OF SABBATH SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Your Committee on Sabbath schools after due consideration present the following report:

The Sabbath school is without doubt one of the most important departments of church work and therefore worthy of the most profound consideration, and it is a matter of sincere regret that so many persons identified with our churches manifest such little interest in the welfare of the schools.

We express our gratification at the statement made by the President in his annual report regarding the considerable increase in the amount of literature used in our schools. It is also highly gratifying to know that other denominations recognize and bear testimony to the excellency of all our Sunday school publications, no reasonable excuse can therefore be offered for using in our schools the literature of any other denomination.

We recommend that our schools use the "Morning Guide" and "Our Children," not only because they supplement and in many places constitute the library, but because they educate the children regarding the institutions, principles, personages and workings of our own church.

We recommend that a copy of Dr. David Wilson's book "Young Men's Chart," also a copy of "Reminiscences of Dr. L. W. Bates" be placed in the library of each school.

We recommend not only the continuance of our Sunday School District Convention, but also Circuit Conventions and Sabbath School Anniversaries be held by all our schools.

Believing as we do that the infant department of our schools is the place and that early childhood is the time for laying the foundation of all christian hope and good citizenship, we recommend therefore not only the use of the "Interdenominational Bible Picture Lessons" but any and every available method whereby the youthful heart and mind may be impressed with the blessed life and teachings of our Lord Jesus Christ and that only the most competent persons be selected for this important work.

We recommend that special effort be made on the various charges by the pastors to awaken a deeper interest in behalf of our schools.

J. L. ELDERDICE, Chairman.

BOUNDARIES OF SUNDAY SCHOOL DISTRICTS.

1. All charges east of the Susquehanna river and north of and including Queen Anne's county, Md., and Clayton, Del., to constitute the first district.
2. All charges in Maryland south of Queen Anne's county and north of the Wicomico River, to constitute the second.
3. All charges in Delaware south of Clayton to constitute the third.
4. All charges on the Peninsula south of the Wicomico River to constitute the fourth.

5. All charges west of the Susquehanna River and east of Westminster and Lisbon, including Baltimore city, to constitute the fifth.
6. The charges in the District of Columbia and Virginia to constitute the sixth.
7. All charges west of and including Westminster and Lisbon to be included in the seventh.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

We the Committee on Sabbath Observance beg leave to report as follows:

We recommend that a part of the paper submitted by Dr. J. J. Murray, E. J. Drinkhouse and L. W. Bates be adopted as follows: "Resolved that this Conference commends with great pleasure the action of those senators and members of the House of Delegates of the State of Maryland, who successfully resisted the passage of the Sanford bill, which in our opinion would have tended to increase the desecration of the Sabbath and thereby demoralize the people, injuring the very classes in whose interest it was ostensibly introduced.

We further recommend that inasmuch as there is an inclination of corporations, firms or employers to force the employed to work on the Sabbath day, contrary to their convictions, that every possible effort be made to prevent the employment of the labor classes on the Sabbath day save in necessitous works.

We painfully deplore the attitude of the Baltimore daily papers and especially the Baltimore Sun, which after publishing an attack on the christian ministry and members of the church who fought against the Sanford bill, refused them and many of its patrons a like opportunity to defend themselves in its columns, but subsequently continued to publish articles defamatory to the christian ministry and the church.

In conclusion, we recommend that our people shall in life and character be wholly consistent in observing and maintaining the purity and sanctity of the Sabbath day.

We again recommend that the law relative to Sabbath observance at camp-meetings be rigidly enforced.

C. S. ARNETT, Chairman.

OBITUARY.

---

REV. JOSHUA THOMAS MURRAY, D.D.

"Absent!" we mournfully say. "Present!" may joyously respond angels round about the throne of God.

A thousand precious memories start to life as by conference authority and our own personal promptings as well we now inscribe Dr. Murray's name on the church's memorial page. Alas! a memory is all now remaining. He, himself, his real living personality, is no longer with us. In the most literal and positive sense he is absent. Not dead, but absent. And though simply absent what a dreary absence it is to all who knew him! In the circle of his intimate associates it is the extinction of a light which, ever calm and serene, reflected the lustre of the better, brighter world. At the moment of his departure there was a vacancy which extended throughout the Church he fondly loved and faithfully served for half a century. In his departure a conspicuous figure in our pulpits and councils suddenly withdrew to return no more.

There is weeping as the scene is unveiled to vision. Tears of sorrow must flow when a life of public usefulness, social excellence and home's tender endearments, as Dr. Joshua Thomas Murray's, vanishes from view. But, thanks be unto God, there may be, and in this case there are, abounding compensations. Absence is only absence here. And the extent of the absence is small in the computations of the illimitable realms of God. It is as insignificant as infinitesimal in the blue heavens and the glory beyond. And thus while we say of our dear brother "Absent," there quickly comes responsively "Present" in angelic triumphant acclaim.

We ought not and cannot, therefore, "sorrow as those that have no hope" of resurrection and immortality. With our hope every tear that bedews the cheek is touched by beams of the Sun Divine, and faith discerns in the combination a sphere of light, seven-hued, beautiful and assuring as the variegated arch of the water cloud, the brilliant bow of sun and spray. So that it were not hard to tell which has the mastery at that New Year's grave in Greenmount, grief or gladness, the gloom of the tomb, or the brilliance high above its sombre shades.

Dr. J. T. Murray was a native of Maryland. After his conversion the call to preach the Gospel came to him so clear and distinct that he soon set about making the necessary preparation to enter the Maryland Annual Conference. That was long before our present equipments of college, theological seminary and Faculty of Instruction. His own brother, Dr. John J. Murray, then pastor of our Congress Street, Georgetown Church, so well assisted him in his studies that he was cordially received by the Conference, and then he entered upon his itinerant career. And a career of distinction it proved to be. It included pastorates of our most prominent churches, and various other positions of church eminence and trust. He was chosen from a very popular pastorate to the editorial chair of THE METHODIST PROTESTANT at a critical period in its history, owing to the disturbed sentiment and agitation produced by the civil strife, and which the issues of the war could not immediately readjust and calm. But the skill and prudence of the pilot editor had illustration in the safe sailing of the ship in the midst of the unsubsidized stormy waters.

Having returned to the pastorate, Dr. Murray was elevated to the chiefest place in the conference, and this, probably, by a well-nigh unprecedented expression of the will of his brethren. He was made president by a single balloting.

He was often a representative in the General Conference, including the last quadrennial session of that supreme body in the church, and he would, beyond all doubt—though contrary to his expressed wishes—have been returned to the next session had he lived to the assembling next April of the Electoral College.

Indeed, the last General Conference anticipated and assumed his presence at its next meeting by appointing him on the Committee of Disciplinary Revisals, to report at the following session. And, probably, it was his work on that committee, coupled with editorial labors deemed expedient by the editor's absence in the great Thank-offering work of the church; these varied and onerous duties, superadded to his engagements in the benevolencies of the Tract cause, may have overtaxed his physical ability and rendered him susceptible to the disease that terminated his life.

However this may be, he is gone from us. The Maryland Conference and the Methodist Protestant Church at large has not known a greater bereavement for many years. So far as our own conference is concerned, no one, whether of the living or the dead, has filled more of our prominent positions. He will be missed almost everywhere in the church. His colleagues in the Book Directory, his associate trustees in Western Maryland College, his fellow-governors of Westminster Theological Seminary, his brother members of the Faculty of Instruction of our conference—all these will miss his interest, his zeal and his intelligence.

West Baltimore Church, of which he had been an early and highly esteemed pastor, and where he had been later on and up to the period of his departure, a regular attendant, will miss his dignified form, his interested and devout spirit. We can scarcely turn to any interests of the church, general or local, where his absence will not be sensibly felt.

We say nothing of his absence from his inner circle of all—his home, his kindred, his son, his daughters, his grandchildren, his brother and sister. We enter not that domestic sanctum; we might say, as in the case of all who have near kindred about them, that home—holy of holies. All outside that circle are strangers at a time like this. And, stranger entrance there would seem an intrusion, and, stranger voice might jar with discord the heart chords now pulsing with the harmony of a tearful resignation and a sanctified sorrow.

It was the last of the Old Year but one day that Dr. Murray, after a brief illness, exchanged worlds. It was New Year's Day when the casketed form of the precious dead was laid down for the funeral solemnities in West Baltimore Church. A large attendance, including our Baltimore ministers and people, evinced tender sympathy and appreciative interest in the touching scene. The first named of this committee was honored with the chief place in the sacred ceremonies, being assisted by Dr. W. S. Hammond, Revs. F. T. Little and T. O. Crouse.

In hope of the resurrection and the life everlasting. Amen.

REV. ROBERT LUTHER LEWIS.

Rev. Robert Luther Lewis was the son of Louis Duval and Emily Iglehart Lewis, and was born in Montgomery county, Md., June 2nd, 1847. When an infant his parents moved to Anne Arundel county, Md., where his childhood and youth were spent. He wrote of himself: "My early life was uneventful. I was frail in body, though not often under the care of a physician. In 1862 while spending a few months with my sister, I was stricken with typhoid fever, and was so ill my life was despaired of. My recovery was retarded by an affliction in my left hip, resulting, apparently, from the severity of the disease, and so affecting my hip joint as to render it stiff and contract the limb, producing permanent lameness."

In 1864 he went to Washington, and there learned telegraphy, and secured a position as operator, when he was severely hurt by a fall, and had to return to his father's house where he was an invalid for a year again.

In the spring of 1867 he entered the "West River Classical Institute," under the management of Rev. Robt. G. Chaney, A.M. In 1868 he received the position of public school teacher in Anne Arundel county, about six miles from Baltimore.

Again I quote him: "Having previously sought and obtained evidence of the forgiveness of my sins, I united in probationary membership with the Brooklyn M. P. Church, of which Rev. C. H. Littleton was then pastor." During the next summer he preached his first sermon for Rev. C. C. Cronin, of the M. E. Church, in the vicinity. Rev. J. W. Charlton, having become pastor of Brooklyn Church, induced the quarterly conference to give him license to preach, and recommended him to the president for work. Dr. S. B. Southerland, who was then president of the conference, sent him in May, 1870, as assistant to Rev. John Roberts on Howard Circuit. In March, 1871, he was received into the conference, and sent as assistant to Rev. S. T. Graham on Dorchester Circuit. His subsequent appointments were: Belair, in 1872; Kent, in 1873, as assistant in each charge; Pocomoke Circuit, 1874; Heathsville, 1875-1881—spending six years on this large field; Queen Anne, 1881-1883; Seaford, 1884; Chesapeake, 1885-1887; Salisbury, 1888, 1889; Caroline, 1890-1891; Kennedyville, 1892-1894; South Baltimore, 1895; Delta, 1896; Wye, 1897.

On the 24th of February, 1875, he was married to Miss Missouri Redhead, of Vienna, Dorchester county, Md. She, with a daughter, their only child, survive him, and live in Federalsburg, Md., where he spent the weary months of his superannuation. His home life was very happy, and contributed much to the usefulness of his life. There was about him a quiet dignity, gentleness and affection, that made his home circle very attractive to all his friends.

Nearly thirty years were spent in the itinerary of the conference. His character as a Christian man, and his work as a preacher and pastor, were only known at their full worth by those who were brought into close contact with him. Though attentive and interested in the business of conference, his voice was seldom heard in debate, and because of his quiet, modest manner he was but little known in our annual assemblies. He had at different times been the pastor of four members of this committee. This is their testimony: "The people of the town (Salisbury) had a high regard for him. He was universally respected and loved. I knew him intimately as his neighbor, and I can safely say a more sweet spirited man I never knew." "He was one of the best men I ever knew. His life was a demonstration of the truth and power of the Gospel he so well and faithfully preached. As a man he was a born leader or general, possessed of those rare qualities which in themselves subdued even the vicious. Caroline Circuit loved him, and will remember with gratitude the example he left us." "For four years it was my blessed privilege, when quite a young man, to have Rev. R. L. Lewis for my pastor. He was a refined Christian minister and gentleman. His refined character was manifest in his home, in the social circle, and in the pulpit. His conversation was elevated and instructive, and one could only think of the pure and the good while in his presence; and to be touched by his life was to be lifted God-ward. In the pulpit his fine taste was manifest. Unlike many modern speakers who use 'up to-date' subjects and expressions, he never used words or subjects that savored of the sensational or vulgar; but in calm and yet earnest manner, intelligently and forcibly preached the pure word of the Lord. He was a moral hero. Deep convictions took hold of his life, and he possessed a Daniel-like courage which made it possible to remain true to his convictions. What he believed to be right, he would stand up for, though he stood alone. He had too true a spirit to even consider the politic side of a question when right was involved." This testimony is true.

He was endowed with a high order of talent. He had a fine literary taste, and communicated his ideas with great perspicuity. He had the gift of poetry. He had rare executive ability, and with all he was a diligent student. These rich treasures of his manhood were consecrated without reserve to the blessed work of the Gospel ministry. A delicate constitution, limiting his ability to work, and prostrations upon a sick bed, frequent during his life, alone held him back from the most laborious and responsible positions in the gift of the church. These lines written by him when at South Baltimore, too feeble to do his work, express the sweet, trusting spirit of his life:

O bid me, Saviour, come to Thee!
I toil in rowing on life's restless tide.
And wait Thy word, to bid my weary bark safe anchored be,
Where safest harbor waits me at thy sheltering side;
O bid me come to Thee.

After his removal to Federalsburg his loss of strength was constant, but not rapid. At times, for a brief season he seemed better, and indulged the hope of entering the pulpit again, but this was not to be. He did not murmur. He was patient and cheerful. Rev. A. D. Dick, serving an adjacent charge, saw him occasionally. He could not talk much in the last days of his life. In reply to Brother Dick's question he said "Yes, the Gospel I have preached to others is now a comfort to me." The message of love and sympathy sent by the conference at Crisfield, was read to him in his last hours, and his face brightened with joy in the fellowship of his brethren whom he loved so well.

Though we have no church in Federalsburg, Brother Lewis and family found many warm friends in other churches, and in the entire community; and there was gentle and loving ministry to him and his, through all these trying days.

I insert one verse from the last poem he wrote:

O, bury me in the morning,
When the birds their sweetest lays
Are hymning to their Maker,
And the world is full of praise.
For I have loved the feathered songsters,
And my soul with worship stirred
When their myriad cheery voices
In triumph songs were heard.
Then bury me when their chorus
Is sweet upon the air;
And love fills every bosom,
And praise is everywhere.

We buried him in the morning in the beautiful cemetery at Federalsburg, April 15th, 1899. Revs. A. D. Dick, S. J. Smith, G. Q. Bacchus, F. H. Mullineaux, W. J. D. Lucas, and the pastor of the M. E. Church participated in the funeral services. The lonely widow and daughter have found kind friends in the community where they live, and we commend them to the prayers and sympathy of the church to which our brother gave his faithful service.

REV. ANDREW JAMES WALTER.

Rev. Andrew James Walter departed this life May 22, 1899, at Mardela Springs, Md., in the fifty-second year of his age, and the thirty-ninth year of his Christian experience and membership in the M. P. Church. He was the second son of Andrew S. and Lufamia Walter, and was born at Mt. Royal, within the present limits of Baltimore city, and near where the North Baltimore Church is located. In 1852 the late Dr. D. W. Bates, then pastor of Baltimore Circuit, made Grinden schoolhouse at Lauraville a permanent "preaching place," with a Sabbath-school attached, under the superintendency of the late John Read, grandfather of Rev. Edgar T. Read. Into this nesting place back in the early fifties were gathered the children of the Read family, the Walter family, the Cromwell family, the Tredway family and numerous others, which space forbids the committee to name, who received their early training in the divine life, and the loyalty to the Church of the two generations that have followed, prove how well the work was done. Here Brother Walter received the first religious training which became the shaping influence, the type and cast of his entire earthly career. In 1861, at a great revival at Eutaw Church, he, with many others, consecrated himself to the Lord Jesus Christ, and became identified with God's people. He was educated in the public schools of Baltimore county, followed by a two-years' course in Western Maryland College; and then passing regularly through the Faculty of Instruction of the Maryland Conference, he entered the work of the ministry, the grandest commission ever given to man. Brother Walter joined the conference in March, 1873, and served the following charges: Baltimore, Potomac, Cecil, Princess Anne, Frederick, Guilford, Rainsburg, Campbell, Kennedyville, Accomac, Grove, Powells-ville, Sussex, Reliance, Conquest, and in April last he entered upon the pastorate of Mardela Springs, when, after a short period of pain and great suffering, the Great Head of the Church called him to the work and association of the spirits of just men made perfect. Brother Walter was in close touch with that class of ministers who never complain, but go to their work feeling that God's hand controlled the pen that gave them their appointments. No man loved the work of the ministry better than Brother Walter, and it was always a matter of great joy when he could induce a soul to turn from the error of his sinful way and give his heart to God. All his tastes and feelings, his thought and inner being, held to the leanings of that life that could only be satisfied where Christ was the supreme object of his soul. While his pulpit ability was perhaps not so marked as that of some of his brethren, yet to the listener, he was always an interesting preacher, and any brother or sister was sure to be blessed who practically accepted the wise counsel and scriptural teaching of his pulpit efforts. His mind tended to quietness and contemplation, and he cared more for the association of the few than of the many; and yet, at times when surroundings were favorable and associates congenial, the flow of his humor was like the bubbling of a fountain—clear, strong and refreshing. Brother Walter's transparent sincerity and godly life was the accepted verdict of the whole Conference; and the fine poetic tribute of his personal friend and whilom parishioner, Miss Amanda Elizabeth Dennis, finds a ready response in the hearts of all who knew him. He held his commission from God as a sacred trust, and daily lived in blessed assurance of that solemn responsibility.

Directly after entering upon the work of his new charge, symptoms of heart disease began to trouble him and seriously interfered with his pastoral duties. He hoped for the best, however, and used every available means to stay the progress of the disease and bring back his usual health, but as the days went by, increasing rather than diminishing his suffering, it dawned upon his mind that his days on earth were numbered. In bidding a brother good-by who had called to see him, he said: "I hope to see you soon again, but if I should not be here, I will be in the world above." On May 22, the worst fears of his family and friends were realized, and he passed suddenly but peacefully to the rest which awaits the people of God.

A number of ministers from different sections of the district were present at the funeral, and participated in the services, Rev. A. W. Mather being in charge, and Rev. L. F. Warner making the principal address. The large attendance upon the part of the people gave evidence of the high esteem in which their dear departed pastor was held by them. The services over, the precious remains were laid to rest in Mardela Springs Cemetery to await the resurrection of the just. May the Great Head of the Church place His everlasting arms beneath the bereaved family and people, and give them the consolations of His sustaining grace.

MRS. CARRIE V. COULBOURN.

Mrs. Carrie V. Coulbourn died at the residence of her mother, Mrs. Charles W. Button, at "Laurel Hill," in Appomattox County, Va. at ten minutes before 9 o'clock Friday night, June 9, 1899, widow of the Rev. Thomas E. Coulbourn, late Foreign Missionary Secretary of the Methodist Protestant Church. I have in part anticipated this brief memoir by an appreciative editorial notice, and also by a kindly obituary, republished from the Lynchburg NEWS in THE METHODIST PROTESTANT of June 11. In anything which may be said of our dear departed young friend we but extol the Christian virtues so conspicuously exemplified in her patient sufferings and peaceful death. The sacrifices made by her in the long journeyings and frequent absences from home of her husband during the years of his missionary secretaryship were not less but probably greater than even the wives of missionaries are called to make. For these, though absent from home, are nevertheless at home, with their companions by their side. I know she willingly endured all these, deferring ever to her husband's convictions of duty, and his determination in this as in all things to be a loyal servant of the Church.

Oh! how much the dear children will miss their mother, who was their all during the weeks and months when they did not see their father's face, and then to be forever shrouded by the mystery of his final departure from them when he was so far from home. How sweet to her has been the immortal reunion of the heavenly world. All that was then so dark has been forever made bright. Sister Coulbourn accepted the position of her own pastor's wife with a full knowledge of its many cares and sacrifices. Her father's house was ever a preacher's home. She had, therefore, learned from childhood much of the privations and hardships of the preacher's lot; but she accepted all without hesitation, esteeming God's service in this as greater honor than ease and affluence in any other relation, retaining in these also the warm attachments and esteem of her girlhood acquaintances and friends. Her's was, indeed, the "ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price. For, after this manner in the old time, the holy women also who trusted in God adorned themselves." Returning from Philadelphia, whither she had been taken to secure relief from eminent medical specialists, she was brought to her sister's home in Lynchburg (Mrs. Dr. Warfield). Here "fading, still fading," she suffered on, and could not know of all which was daily wasting her life away. Realizing probably that the end was near, she desired to go back to her mother's home and be in her own room again. There, too, she hoped the pure country air would strengthen her, but such was not the case. After the warm weather came she grew weaker and weaker. Her mother said to her a few days before her death, "Carrie, if it is the Lord's will that you should be taken, are you ready?" And she said, "Oh, yes, mamma, I have settled that long ago, and am ready to go." Mrs. Warfield writes me: "Sister's death was so peaceful and calm; she was like one going to sleep." I saw the remains of her father and husband laid to rest on the heights of Lynchburg in beautiful Spring Hill Cemetery, and now she sweetly sleeps beside them, awaiting the glorious awakening of the resurrection mor'n.

"Brighter, fairer far than living,
With no trace of woe or pain,
Robed in everlasting beauty,
We shall see thee once again."

MRS. CATHARINE ANN WARD.

Mrs. Catharine Ann Ward, daughter of Jacob and Ruth Light, and beloved wife of the late Rev. J. T. Ward, D.D., was born in Bedington, W. Va., November 13, 1823, and departed to her home in Heaven June 1, 1899, from the residence of her son-in-law, Dr. T. H. Lewis, at Westminster, Md. There are flowers that burst upon us and startle the eye with the splendor of their beauty. We gaze and turn away, remembering nothing but their gorgeous hues. There are others that refresh the traveller by the sweetness they diffuse, but he has to search for the source of his delight, and he finds it imbedded among green leaves. How welcome is the memory of that flower when the evening breeze is again made fragrant with its perfume. It is thus that the unpretending virtues of true character force themselves upon our regard with their beautiful and soul-refreshing attributes as we think of the life of this noble woman. She was married to Rev. James Thomas Ward May 21, 1845, and entered with him upon the duties of itinerant life in the Gospel ministry. After serving several of the prominent charges of the Maryland Conference, Methodist Protestant Church, they settled in Westminster, Md., where they possessed a beautiful home. Upon the organization of Western Maryland College Dr. Ward became its president, and later president of Westminster Theological Seminary. In all the abundant and efficient labors of this man of God his faithful and devoted wife was a loving helper. Here was an instance where the love of married life, in all its imperishable beauty, outlived the bloom of youth, and we see the possibility of earthly love being kept in all its vigor and freshness, uninjured by the lapse of time, shedding a radiance like the sunset glow of evening around the peaceful passage of old age towards the tomb. In the capacity of a wife and mother we observe her holiest elements of character, and the guardian of immortal being will write upon the records of eternity how faithfully she has fulfilled her trust. Tender, refined, delicate and cheerful, devoted to the happiness of those around her; affectionate, judicious, dignified and intellectual, with a love deep as the very wells of life, mingling with the current of her thoughts and feelings, giving warmth and intensity to all without impairing the force of the purity of any. In her church relations and friendships also the deep pathos of the feminine heart was found in the greatest perfection, concealed behind the countenance that reflected "the ornament of a meek and quiet spirit, which is in the sight of God of great price." It is in such hearts, whose best offerings are rarely estimated by the world according to their real value, that disinterested affection in all its natural warmth lives and burns for the benefit of others; that enthusiasm and zeal, tempered down by humility, are ever ready for the performance of the duties of life, and that ambition is directed to the attainment and diffusion of more lasting happiness than mere earthly beauty or a superficial view of things can produce. The subject of this sketch was one of that class of exemplary women who pass to and fro upon earth with noiseless step, whose names are seldom heard. Yet among this unpretending class she was a striking and beautiful model of consecrated Christian womanhood, silently accomplishing great and glorious purposes, supported and carried forward by that most valuable of all forces, moral power. Just in proportion as women cultivate this force, under the blessing of Heaven, independently of personal attractions, is their influence over others and their power of doing good. Sister Ward was one of those noble-minded women who possess so clear a sense of right and wrong of individual actions as to be of essential service in aiding the judgment of others in those intricate affairs in which it is sometimes difficult to dis sever worldly wisdom from religious duty. It is an important consideration that from such women many immortal beings derive that early bias of character which, under Providence, decides their fate not only in this world, but in the world to come. Feeling keenly the loss of her devoted husband whose form we laid in the grave more than two years ago, she was in feeble health for some time, but the end came suddenly. One daughter, Mrs. T. H. Lewis, survives her. The funeral service was held at Dr. Lewis' residence, conducted by the pastor, assisted by Dr. B. F. Benson and Dr. H. L. Elderdice, and her remains were interred by the side of those of her husband in Westminster Cemetery.

MRS. MARIETTA DICKINSON MILLS.

Mrs. Marietta Dickinson Mills, daughter of James T. and Mary Ann Porter Dickinson, was born April 7th, 1844. In a decidedly Christian home under the best Christian influences, her character was developed and formed, and she was thus prepared in sympathy for the position of a pastor's wife, to which in the providence of God she was called. In her thirteenth year, under the pastorate of Rev. William Mackey, she made a profession of faith in Christ, and united with the Presbyterian Church, with which her father was prominently identified. On November the 25th, 1862, she united in marriage with Rev. Joseph L. Mills, of the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. L. Polk, her pastor. She proved a true wife and helper for nearly thirty-seven years. After a long period of invalidism, following an attack of la grippe, on the 20th of April, 1899, she fell asleep in Jesus in full hope of immortality. Her remains were laid to rest in the Methodist Protestant Cemetery at Pocomoke City, after appropriate services in the Presbyterian Church, conducted by Rev. W. M. Strayer, assisted by Rev. D. L. Greenfield, of the Methodist Protestant, and Rev. Mathison, of the Presbyterian Churches. A noble woman, a loving and devoted wife and mother, a sincere Christian has been removed from the circle in which she has so long moved, and there is a sense of loss which can only be compensated by the memory of the life she lived and the assurance that she is with Christ, which is far better. The long and distressing illness, wasting the body, sometimes clouding the mind, was borne with a fortitude that could only be sustained by the presence and grace of God. She might have prayed to die, but she did not. Through the long days and longer nights she waited her change. Her piety was built on the word of God, and in its deepest centre was keyed by faith in Jesus Christ. Looking into the future, she said: "I do not know where heaven is, but I do know that Christ is mine and I am his, therefore I am safe." During her late illness she said many beautiful things born of her love for her family and her musings about the heavenly home. These sweet words are heart treasures for the bereaved, and may not be spread before the gaze of the world. Her message of love to all she had ever known, and her conscious security in the keeping of Christ are a fit closing of a life of more than a half a century. May grace, mercy and peace, from God our Father and His son Jesus Christ, rest upon and abide with the bereaved husband and children.

W. M. STRAYER.

MRS. MARY HOOD NELSON.

Mrs. Mary Hood Nelson, nee Baxley, wife of Rev. H. E. Nelson, departed this life July 5, 1899, in her twenty-third year, and after tender and appropriate service, conducted by the president of the Conference and the writer, at the home of her parents, we laid her sorrowfully away in the family cemetery, near Jennings' Chapel, on the 7th of July. Thus was ended the first chapter in a brief but beautiful life. Early in life, at a camp-meeting held at Mt. Airy, she was led to Christ, and immediately, like Andrew, brought her brother to the Saviour, and both of them united with the Methodist Protestant Church at Jennings' Chapel. Very soon, because of her excellent qualities, both of mind and character, she became the central personage of the family and loved ones, and steps were taken to give her the training she was most eager to obtain and in every sense capable of appreciating. She entered Western Maryland College in the fall of 1893, and continued through the full course, though with considerable interruptions because of sickness, and graduated with the highest honors of her class. It will not be disparaging to any one when it is said of her that no student at the college ever made a better record or stood higher in the estimation of the faculty. She could always be relied upon to do excellently well whatever task was laid upon her, and evinced in every sphere a high order of intellect and noble qualities of character. Her first year after leaving college was spent in teaching in Gaithersburg Seminary, where she more than satisfied the high anticipations of the president of the school and her family and friends. The motto of her life was excelsior, and she was rarely ever known to fall below the very highest standard. When on the 17th of August, 1898, she was married to Rev. H. E. Nelson, those who knew her best and had been watching her career with thoughtful interest, felt she had entered upon a life for which she was eminently fitted, and not only would her husband find her one "in whom his heart could safely trust," and a true helpmate in his work, but also the church generally would be largely benefitted by her consecrated service. Again her friends were not disappointed. She entered at once into the true spirit of service, and soon won the hearts of the members and friends of Delta Charge, to which Brother Nelson was assigned as pastor, and few mourn her loss more deeply than Delta Church. She reflected great credit upon herself and family in every sphere of her activity and honored and adorned every position she occupied in life. That the sun of her pure noble Christian life should set before the full eventide had come; until the day of usefulness was far spent, and the work of life completed, filled all her family and friends with mingled surprise and sadness, especially as she had just entered upon a life of useful helpful ministration. To whom and to all associated with her life was sweet, and full of hopeful promise. The fitness for life, according to our poor blinded vision, constitutes the unseenliness of the approach of death, and raises the deepest questionings of our nature. Why, O Lord, must the young and useful die? Is there no defense against the king of terror? Must the young and the pure be subjected to all the contingencies of this life? Can we give them no absolute assurance of long life? The voice of nature and human experience, with the deepest solemnity, answers No, and wisdom cries in the streets and along the highways of life, "Prepare to live, be not unprepared to die." The death of our young sister would indeed be inexpressibly sad did we not believe she has entered a higher sphere of existence and a larger usefulness, but in the full confidence that she has passed into the presence of her Saviour, and heard His "well done, good and faithful servant," we are prepared to suffer with resignation the will of God, and ever cherish her memory redolent with so many blessed associations. To the sorrowing husband and family we command the Scripture chosen for her funeral service, "We know that all things work together for good to them that love God." "Now, our Lord Jesus Christ Himself and God, even our Father, who hath loved us, and hath given us everlasting consolation and a good hope through grace, comfort your hearts."

Name and Object.

This association shall be known as the Mutual Relief Association of the itinerant ministers and their wives of the Maryland Annual Conference of the Methodist Protestant Church. ARTICLE 3.

Membership.

All itinerant ministers of the Maryland Annual Conference and their wives shall be eligible to membership.

ARTICLE 4.

Decease of a Member.

Upon the death of a member of this association, the president shall draw his order on the secretary within forty days after he shall have received the proper notice thereof, for a sum equal to one dollar for every member of the association at the date of said death, for the whole amount of mortuary dues which the secretary has been able to collect; less expense of collection, and the secretary shall forthwith pay the sum so called for to the husband, widow, child or children, or to such person or persons to whom the deceased may have disposed of the same by will or other assignment; or to the legal heirs of the deceased.

CONFERENCE SERMON.

"The next day John seeth Jesus coming unto him, and saith, 'Behold the Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world.'" . . .

"And I saw, and bare record that this is the Son of God."—St. John, I: 29 and 34.

John the Baptist began his ministry in the wilderness of Judea. His mission was to "prepare the way of the Lord." He was only "a voice crying in the wilderness." Prepare ye the way of the Lord; make His paths straight. He was the messenger of God, sent before the face of Jesus to "make ready a people prepared for the Lord." As the Fore-runner of Jesus his work was to turn the people to the Lord their God. The cry of this messenger was, "Repent ye, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand!" This call to repentance was heard by many people of many different classes. Some who heard "brought forth fruits meet for repentance," and, making confession of sins, were baptized unto repentance. John heard the cries of these penitents as they sought his baptism. He baptized them in Jordan as they confessed themselves to be sinners. But he did not teach them that his baptism was all. He impressed upon them the fact that his ministry was only a ministry of preparation. He was simply getting ready a people prepared for the Lord. His teachings insisted upon sin being forsaken as the essential preparation to meet and to be ready for the Lord, who was at hand with the kingdom of heaven. Whether the penitent who stood before John seeking his baptism were a publican, or a soldier, or a fisherman, or a Sadducee, or a Pharisee, each man must "bring forth the fruits meet for repentance." Every man must turn from his personal sins, forsaking them at once and forever, before he would be prepared to receive the Lord. John baptized no man desiring him to rest in his baptism as if that were all of his ministry, and as if there were nothing more. He insisted that his ministry was only a ministry of preparation. He was simply turning the people towards the coming Lord. He cried, "Repent ye!" But he insisted upon repentance because the "kingdom of heaven was at hand." He invited them to his baptism, but he taught them, "I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance, but He that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear; He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire." He brought them to repentance, and heard them confessing their sins, but all of this was only preparatory to the coming of "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." All of the ministry of the Forerunner looked to the coming of the Son of God, whose salvation they were to seek and whose steps they were to follow. John's own disciples were being prepared for the Lord. At His coming they were to be turned over to Him and become His disciples. Until Jesus came John was to prepare the people to meet the Lord. At His coming the messenger was to transfer his followers to the Lord, and henceforth they should follow Jesus. After the herald had prepared the way, and announced the presence of the Lord, and turned over his gathered ones to the Son of God, John would decrease, but Jesus would increase. It is the work of every messenger of God to deliver the message that God sends through him to the people. It is his work to prepare the way of the Lord, to make ready the people that he gathers to receive the Lord as their Divine Saviour from sin. Having brought his people to the Christ and witnessed their conversion to Him, he should be willing to continue in the field of preparation work—to make ready more people for the Lord—and should always rejoice when those he gathers become consecrated followers of the Lord Jesus.

Jesus began His ministry by accepting and endorsing the ministry of His Forerunner. Leaving Nazareth, He came to the Jordan seeking and obtaining the "baptism of John." He silenced all of the objection that John made to his baptism at His hands by saying, "Suffer it to be so now, for thus it becometh us to fulfill all righteousness." Receiving the baptism "to fulfill all righteousness," Jesus prayed. With the water of John's baptism resting upon Him, He lifted His heart to God His Father in prayer. In immediate answer to His prayer, "the heavens were opened unto Him, and He saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove and lighting upon Him; and, lo! a voice from heaven, saying, "This is My beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Thus Jesus entered upon his ministry to "fulfill all righteousness." In answer to his prayer heaven was opened unto Him. He received the fulness of the Holy Ghost and had all power in heaven and earth. He heard the Father's voice proclaiming his divine Sonship, and declaring his pleasure in him. "This same Jesus standing under the opened heavens with the holy dove resting upon his head, and the voice of God proclaiming His divine Sonship, is "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." He will go forward in his work of salvation until "In due time Christ shall die for the ungodly." When he shall cry "It is finished," and the crimson blood of His broken heart shall flow through the side riven by a soldier's spear, "a new and living way of entrance into the holiest of all will be opened" to all who enter by the blood of Jesus. Heaven will be opened to every believer in the Lord. The Holy Ghost will descend upon every man who earnestly seeks to be "filled with the Spirit." "And to every one that receives Him He will give power to become a son of God, even to them that believe on His name. God will send into his heart the spirit of adoption so that he can cry "Abba, Father."

After His double baptism Jesus stands on the banks of the Jordan. The water of the sacred river is upon his brow. The holy dove is upon his head. The declaration of the everlasting Father is ringing through his heart. He is God's beloved Son and the Spirit of the Lord is upon Him. Not long does He stand on the bank of the river. He turns to leave the scene of His divine inauguration. But He does not go back to Nazareth. The quiet, peaceful, restful home life of His mother's roof is behind Him. There is a different future before Him. The coming days will be days of self-denial, of suffering, and of conflict, until he shall have met and conquered every foe of man, and shall lay down His life upon the altar of the cross as "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." Under the leadership of the Spirit He turns His steps towards the wilderness and enters the desert of temptation. He walks away from the presence of His Forerunner and enters the wilderness alone there to come into conflict with the evil one. He passes out from under the opened heavens and goes into the solitude of the dreary waste. He departs from the outshining of the glory of God to spend forty days in the wilderness where He will be visited by the "powers of darkness." The full anointing of the Holy Spirit upon Him, but there will come to Him in the loneliness of the wilderness another spirit who will not wear the form of a dove, and whose mission will not be holy. He goes away from the Jordan carrying with Him the voice of God, saying "This is my beloved Son in whom I am well pleased." But in the wilderness there will come to Him another voice, who will endeavor to throw doubt upon His divine Sonship and seek to lead Him away from His chosen mission of sacrificing His life for the redemption of sinners. "Jesus was led up of the Spirit into the wilderness to be tempted of the devil."

Satan came to Him with his temptations: the temptations were triple. Jesus was in the wilderness alone. His environment was desolation. After the forty days' fast His hunger was keen. His temptation was real, strong and powerful. It was to try the power of His divine Sonship by converting stones into bread to satisfy His own hunger. The first Adam lived in the Garden of the Lord with everything good for food at his hand. The last Adam was in the wilderness with no food at all of any kind at hand. There were stones shaped like loaves of bread at His feet that seemed to mock His hunger. The same tempter came to both, and, in some respects, with the same temptation, to obtain desirable food. The first Adam yielded at the first temptation and took the fruit that God had forbidden. The last Adam refused the food offered by Satan, and chose rather "to live on every word of God." The second temptation was to test his trust in God by imperiling His life and depending upon angelic rescue. This temptation was also refused, and the victory won by feeding on the Word of God. "Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God." The third temptation came "All the kingdoms of the world, and the glory of them will I give Thee, if Thou wilt fall down and worship me." This temptation was also refused. Satan was ordered out of His path. "Get thee hence, Satan." Jesus still fed on the word of God. "It is written, thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him only shalt thou serve." Jesus wanted the world; but He did not want it as the gift of Satan. He would not accept the world as a gift from Satan upon Satan's conditions. He wanted it as His own conquest. He would buy the world with His own blood. He would redeem it with the price of His own life. He would win it with the power of His own Gospel. He would sow it with the Word of God. He would cover it with the knowledge of the Lord. He would nourish it with the grace of God. And he would fill it with the love of God. By the power of his sacrificial love He would draw the world to Himself so that every knee would bow to Him, and every tongue make its confession to Him to the glory of God the Father, "Who so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The conflict with Satan ended for a season. Jesus had resisted him at every point, and had overcome all of his temptations. The victory was won. The last Adam passed through the dispensation of the devil without sin. He remained sinless. Angels came and ministered unto Him.

Up to this time the Beloved Son had been alone. No man had joined him. No man had stood at his side. He had not asked any man to become his disciple. He had identified himself with the ministry of John. He had received baptism at his hands. He had approached God through prayer. In answer to his prayer God had opened Heaven to him, poured out his Spirit upon him, and proclaimed him to be his beloved Son. He had followed the leading of the Spirit, and had been brought into conflict with the devil, and had overcome the wicked one. He had received the ministry of Angels; but, so far as man was concerned, he stood alone. He knew God. He knew Satan. He knew the Angels. The time was come when he would show his knowledge of men, and reveal himself unto men so that they would see him to be the Son of God and the Saviour of the world. He had looked into the opened heavens. He had stood close to the king of hell, and knew what was in the bottomless pit. Henceforth He would go among men to deliver them from the power of the devil, and lead them to become the sons of God. He would seek and save the lost, so that they should not perish in the bottomless pit, but be lifted up to the opened heavens where, as sons of God, they should spend everlasting life with fulness of joy and pleasures for ever more. He would deliver men from the guilt and power of sin, and bestowing upon them the divine pardon of sin, wash guilt out of their hearts, and make them whiter than the snow. Son of God he was. He was, also, the "Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." From henceforth he would manifest himself unto men as the Saviour of the world.

He turns away from the desert of fasting and hunger. He leaves the place of temptation. After receiving the ministry of the Angels, he departs from the wilderness, and goes back to the scene of his baptism, to the place where he had stood under the opened heavens. He stands once more in the presence of his Forerunner, and waits for his testimony. He is in the midst of the multitude listening to the preaching of his messenger. He is unnoticed by and unknown to the crowd. But he is in the vision of the wilderness prophet who has been preaching, "Repent ye: for the kingdom of Heaven is at hand." The King is at hand to receive candidates for the kingdom of Heaven. The Lamb of God is present to receive penitents whose sins he will take away. Jesus comes to John for his first disciples.

When the Beloved Son stood among the people listening to the words of the wilderness preacher, John was surrounded by a deputation of priests and Levites from Jerusalem who were plying him with questions concerning himself and his ministry. His answers to them are clear, but chiefly in the negative. He is not the Christ. He is not Elias. He is not that Prophet. All that he would say concerning himself was, "I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness." Make straight the way of the Lord, as saith the Prophet Elias! Then the Pharisees asked him, "Why baptizest thou then! if thou be not that Christ, nor Elias, neither that Prophet?" Then he answered them, "I baptize with water; but there standeth one among you, whom ye know not. He it is, who coming after me is preferred before me, whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose." Jesus was then standing in the view of John's eye. But neither his look nor his words seem to have made any deep impression on the priests, or Levites, nor even upon his own disciples. Certainly there is no record of any notice being taken of these words, nor any inquiry made at the time of the "One standing among them." General statements concerning Jesus, or concerning the presence of Jesus in a congregation appear to be insufficient to arouse interest and to turn attention to Him. General statements concerning the Lord's presence may be true, and ought to be sufficient to arrest the attention of men and lead them to think of Him who, standing among them, would graciously give his salvation to those who would look unto him with the desire to be saved. But if we would arrest human attention and turn it to the Son of God so that men will become his followers, then we must be definite in our utterances concerning him. We must fasten our own eyes upon him, and present him to the people as the personal Christ who is the need of the individual soul. We must point him out as He is, and what He is to men if we would so make him known that they would desire to become his disciples. We must point him out as the Son of God, and as "The Lamb of God, which taketh away the sin of the world." Jesus must be made known to the world. His mission is to the whole world, and to every creature in the world. He is the Redeemer of the world. "He tasted death for every man." His saving grace must be made known to every man. It is not enough for the preacher to know him. It is not enough for the church to know him. The whole congregation must have Him brought to their notice and attention. Every man should be made acquainted with the Son of God, who is the Saviour of men. The minister and the lay disciples may know Him as "The Son of God" and as "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." These, knowing Him as the Divine Saviour, as the only One who is able to save men, should make Him known to others, so that they may worship Him as the Son of God, and shall trust Him as their Saviour from sin. The next day, when John saw Jesus approaching the scene of his ministry, he pointed to Him, saying, "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." We must not conceal our knowledge of Jesus. Our Lord and Saviour must not be so hidden in our own hearts as to keep Him from the eyes of others, who also need Him. We must make Him known to the world. We must publish the things concerning Him that the Spirit has revealed to us. "Freely we have received." We must "freely give." There is no salvation for men save through the blood of the Son of God. "There is none other name under heaven given among men whereby we must be saved." Knowing this, and knowing Jesus to be the Son of God and the Saviour of the world, we should publish this precious truth to the world, making it known to every man, so that every soul shall have the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the Lord's Christ, and may call upon Him for salvation.

A personal knowledge of Jesus as the Son of God and as the "Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" is essential to winning men to Christ. Without this personal knowledge we cannot be efficient laborers in the world-field to save men. Without this knowledge we cannot be laborers together with God for the upbuilding of Zion. If we would undertake, successfully undertake, to bring men to Christ we must know Jesus as the Son of God who has power upon earth to forgive sin. We know that the world is full of sin. Man's life is covered with transgression. His "heart is deceitful above all things, and is desperately wicked." Evil abounds everywhere. There is only one thing that can wash sin out of the human heart, and that is the "blood of Jesus." "The blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth from all sin." If we would bring sinners to the fountain of blood to have their sins washed away, we must know Him who died for all. The need of this age is soul-winning. Souls are perishing all over the world. Men are living and dying in sin by great multitudes. Our churches are being depleted. Our membership is not growing as it should. Our accessions are few and far between. Our altars only have a penitent now and then. It is true, that in some of our churches during the past year there have been many conversions and large ingatherings. But the lament of the denominations everywhere is, souls are not being saved. The cry of the day is for souls.

Why is it that souls are not being saved in greater number? Why is Methodism not growing more rapidly? Why is it that so few are being saved under our ministry? It is not that the Gospel has lost any of its might. "It is still the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." The blood of Jesus has lost none of its efficiency. It is still sufficient to wash scarlet sins out of the human heart, and to make it whiter than snow. It is not that Jesus has lost any of His power to save. The Son of Man still has power upon earth to forgive sins. It is not that God has ceased to love the world, or to care for human souls. His love is an everlasting love. He still rejoices over the return of sinners to him seeking forgiveness. Is it that we are failing to bring Jesus to the attention of our people with sufficient emphasis as the Son of God, and as the Saviour of the world? Are we simply speaking of Him as being in the midst of our congregations without directing the notice of individuals to "Behold Him as the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world?" Surely, it cannot be that we do not know Him well enough ourselves as the Divine Saviour as to dwell upon the blessedness of His salvation! We do know Him, and we know Him as God's own Son who bore our sins in His own body on the tree.

Knowledge of Jesus is obtained by revelation. In the ages before the completion of the full revelation of Jesus Christ as contained in the completed Bible, God made direct revelation of himself to men for their personal instruction and for the instruction of others. God made Christ known to John by the baptism of the Holy Ghost at the Jordan. The One who sent him to baptize with water said unto him, "Upon whom thou shalt see the Spirit descending and remaining on him, the same is He which baptizeth with the Holy Ghost." John saw the heavens opened. He saw the Holy Spirit descending. He saw the Dove remaining on the head of Jesus. He heard the voice of God proclaiming from the opened heavens, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." Having been a witness of this, John saw and bare record that that is the Son of God. How he came to know Jesus as "The Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world," is not so clearly told us. It may have been that this knowledge was conveyed to his inner man in connection with the study of the Word of God as he had it from Genesis to Malachi. The prayerful study of Isaiah may have deeply impressed this knowledge upon his heart. God had led him to see himself as the messenger of God, as foretold by the evangelical prophet. It may have been that the same God opened the eyes of his understanding as he studied the prophecies of Isaiah concerning the coming of the Messiah. Looking at the One spoken of in Isaiah LIII, he may have seen Jesus as the Lamb of God. He may have seen Him laden with the iniquity of all, bearing the griefs and carrying the sorrows of all. He may have seen Him wounded for our transgressions, bruised for our iniquities, chastised for our peace, and healing us with His stripes. Through divine revelation John knew Jesus to be the Son of God, bearing the sin of the world to save men from their sins. We have the same revelation. The completed Bible, with all that John knew, and much more than he knew, is in our hands. We have the full revelation of Jesus Christ. We can go back beyond the "beginning" of Genesis and see the Son of God. "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God." We can see Him as He was disclosed to fallen man, down through the ages, as the coming Deliverer. We can behold Him as He becomes the Son of the Virgin, and stands before men in human flesh as the incarnate Son of God. We can see Him throughout His life as He steadily moves onward to the cross of crucifixion. We can follow His steps as He goes in to Gethsemane to sweat blood in agonizing prayer, and to drink the full cup to its bitterest dregs. We can see Him as He stands to receive the terrible scourging inflicted by the horrible whip of Pilate. We can see Him as He is stretched upon the rough wood as the iron is being driven through His flesh nailing Him to the cross for our sins. We can see Him hanging upon the accursed tree suffering the just for the unjust that He might bring us to God. We can see the spear plunged into His side, and look at the blood as it streams forth from His heart of love, seeing the fountain opened for sin and uncleanness, and know that we have been redeemed with the precious blood of Christ. We can go still farther in the disclosure. We can see Him conquering death, winning the victory over the grave, and know that Christ is risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of them that slept. We can see Him ascending to heaven where He ever liveth to make intercession for them that come unto God by Him, and whom He is able to save to the uttermost. Through the revelation given to St. John we see Him as the Lamb that was slain but liveth again, sitting in the midst of the throne of God. Having all of this knowledge and more of Jesus by revelation, surely we do know Him to be the Son of God and "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sins of the world." Having come to this same Jesus for our personal salvation, and being justified by faith, and having peace with God through Our Lord Jesus Christ, surely we ought to have the power of our knowledge, and so preach Jesus to the people, that they will turn to Him for salvation and become His disciples. Knowing our Saviour to be divine, and knowing that He was manifested to take away our sins, let us, always, in every sermon, upon every opportune occasion, hold Him up before the people as the need of all men, hoping that in some measure we may witness the fulfillment of His own words, "And I, if I be lifted up, will draw all men to Me."

We cannot know Jesus too well. The better we know Him, the better will we preach Him. We should always draw as near to Him as possible, and look at Him with growing desire to possess more of His knowledge and more of His grace. We should look at Jesus until the blessedness and power of his presence shall fill our souls. Those who see Jesus distinctly preach Him efficiently. Those who look at Him longest have the best appreciation of his worth. The hungry heart that feeds on Jesus as the "Bread of Life" as food for the hungry souls of his congregation which they will gladly eat. He who draws very close to the bleeding side of Jesus and looks intently upon the suffering Saviour until he feels the magnetism of the Crucified will take that attractive power into the pulpit and will endeavor to fasten the eyes of the people upon Him "Who loved us and gave Himself for us." We must not content ourselves with seeing Him once as One standing in the midst of the church. Nor is one look at Him as the Son of God sufficient to preach Him successfully. A single glance at Him as "The Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world" is not all that is essential to set Him forth as the precious bleeding sacrifice. We must look at Him again and again. Jesus must always be attractive to us. To Him we must repeatedly go, and look at Him long and earnestly, until we shall drink in His love, and then, constrained by the love of Christ, lift Him up before our hearers so that they may behold His love and give Him their love in return. There is a story told of a poorly dressed and hard working man who used to enter a certain church every morning on his way to work. He would stay only a short time and then come out and go to his work. But it was noticed that his face always had a changed appearance as he came out of the church. He would enter the church with a troubled countenance. He would come out of it with a radiant face. The minister watched him several times, and finally determined to ask him why he entered the church every morning. So one morning, stopping him, he asked: "Alphonse, do you not come to say your prayers?" He answered: "No, father; I just come to look at God, and God looks at me." That daily look at God changed his life for the better and brought him much happiness. We need to daily look at Jesus, and to have Jesus look at us. Our wistful faces turned towards His will be met with His blessing bestowed upon us, so that we will not only be better people for that daily look, but we will become more efficient preachers the more we look at Jesus and realize that He is mighty to save. Looking at Jesus brings soul satisfaction, and with this satisfaction there comes the desire to make others acquainted with the Jesus who satisfies. John looked at Jesus until his face showed the hidden satisfaction of his heart. Then he said to others: "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." Two of his disciples turned and looked and followed Jesus. After Andrew had stayed long enough with Jesus to know Him as the Christ, he was satisfied, and then went after his brother Simon and brought him to Jesus. Phillip followed in the footsteps of Jesus long enough to become satisfied with Him, and then he went and found his friend Nathaniel, and persuaded him to come and see Jesus. And when Nathaniel stayed with Him long enough to know Him, he was satisfied with Him, saying; "Rabbi, Thou art the Son of God; Thou art the king of Israel." Let us fasten our eyes upon the Master and we will become satisfied with Him, and then we will not only gladly follow Him, but we will go after others to find them and to bring them to Jesus.

Those who know Jesus should make Him known to those who know Him not. Our personal knowledge of the Saviour should be given to others. All men need to know Him. To know Him is life eternal. Eternal life is the gift of God. But this gift can only be obtained through a personal knowledge of Jesus as "the Son of God" and as "the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." God gave His only begotten Son that men should not only be rescued from perishing, but also that they might have everlasting life. As the gift of eternal life is conditioned upon faith in Jesus Christ, it is the duty of those who know the Son of God to point Him out to others as the only One who has the words of eternal life.

We should direct the attention of men to Jesus. We should get men to look upon him as "The Son of God," and as the "Lamb of God." The purpose of all our preaching should be to persuade men to look to Jesus for salvation. John gathered men about him, but he gathered them for a purpose. He drew men to him. He held men around him. He preached to them. He brought them to repentance and to confession of sin. His object in this was to bring men to Jesus. He passed Andrew and John from himself to Jesus. How long he preached to these men, I do not know. How long he knew them, I do not know. But his whole purpose in gathering men and in preaching to them was to lead them to Christ. His whole intent was to lead them to see the Son of God, and to trust Him as the "Lamb of God that taketh away the sin of the world." Every man has an acquaintanceship. Every man has a personal following. Every man holds conversation with other men. Every preacher has a number of hearers who circle around him. What shall he do with them? He should make Jesus known to them as the divine Saviour. He should so point out Jesus to them as to lead them to desire to become his disciples. Every preacher should make acquaintances. He should form friendships. He should gather men to him, and preach to them with all the earnestness of his soul. But his objective should be to bring these men to Jesus. His purpose should not be to simply have pleasant associations. Not simply to increase the number of his friends. Not simply to enjoy social distinction. Not simply to win their approval, Not simply to have large congregations and win great applause. But his purpose should be to make men acquainted with Jesus Christ as the Redeemer of the world. He should endeavor to turn their gaze upon Jesus, so preaching Jesus to them as to win their hearts for Him, and lead them to consecrate their lives to His service. All of the knowledge of the preacher should be utilized to lead men to the cross of Christ so that seeing Him they will fall at His feet and personally cry, God, be merciful to me, a sinner." The preacher should use all his influence over men, and employ all of his knowledge of Jesus Christ to bring the sinner and Saviour together for the salvation of the sinner. Some years ago, when I was the pastor of St. Luke's Church, Philadelphia, I held an anniversary service of the church. Many strangers were attracted to the service. Among these was a gentleman of refined appearance and devout deportment, who approached me after the morning service and said, "Mr. Neepier, I am a stranger to you, but I would like to ask after a minister of your church who years ago manifested concern about my salvation. His name is Dr. John J. Murray. I was only a boy of fourteen at the time. But one day he laid his hand on my head and said, 'My son, I would love to see you become a follower of Jesus and a member of the church.' At the time, I did not give my heart to the Lord, but the words and concern of Dr. Murray about my salvation followed me, and brought me to the Son of God, whose I am, and whom I serve." Let us employ all of our power to bring men to Jesus.

John the Baptist was a preacher who repeatedly called attention to Jesus. He knew that His blood alone could wash away sin. John was a preacher of repentance. He spared no man's sins. All sin must be put away—must be forsaken. John used plain words, sharp words, strong words, severe words when speaking of sin, and insisting upon repentance. In this he cried aloud and spared not. But the objective of all his denunciation of sin, and his insistence upon repentance was to prepare the way of the Lord into the hearts of the people. He wanted them to forsake sin and to look at the Saviour from sin, that in His blood they might wash them away. Repentance has its culmination in sin forsaken and in sin taken away. Man can forsake sin. Only God can take away sin. Jesus took the sin of the world, laid it upon himself, bore it in his own body upon the tree, and took it away by dying on the cross. He can take sin away from the individual penitent; take it away as far as the east is from the west, and make him pure in heart so that he may see God. The ministry must preach repentance. Repentance must be insisted upon everywhere, and by all classes of people. There cannot be any compromise with sin. All men must be commanded to repent. There is no exception, there is no respect of persons with God. There is no partiality. There is an equality of souls. "The rich and the poor meet together, and the Lord is the Maker of them all." There is an equality of sinful condition. Repentance on the part of every sinner is essential to salvation. "Except ye repent ye shall all likewise perish." John preached repentance to all. Jesus preached repentance throughout His life. All Gospel ministers must preach repentance. The repentance of sin must be insisted upon. Men must repent or perish. But repentance is not the end of preaching. It is a means to an end. Repentance is not simply to bring men to sorrow, but through their sorrow to lead them to Jesus, so that they may "behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." The minister must point out the divine Saviour to sinners. He must be held up before the people as the Son of God who has power upon earth to forgive sins.

The preaching of repentance must be positive. Sin must be turned from; it must be forsaken. But the sermon must not end without the Saviour being brought before sinners, and His blood must be offered to them as the fountain for sin and uncleanness, and they be urged to pray, "Wash me and I shall be whiter than snow."

The preacher should be listened to with attention until he ends his sermon. The most helpful things may be the last things that he utters. John was severe, positive, stern and uncompromising when he preached against sin. He said severe things to sinners. He called some of them "vipers." He called others "unrighteous." He charged men with being in danger of the wrath to come. He said that the threatening axe was laid at the root of the tree—that the unfruitful tree would be cut down and thrown into the fire, and that the worthless chaff would be burned with unquenchable fire. He made men tremble as he dwelt upon their wickedness and their danger. He insisted upon their repentance and bringing forth the fruits of repentance. But he did not end his preaching with denunciations of sin, nor with unqualified threats of wrathful fires that would burn forever. He preached on until he showed them the presence of the Son of God who had come to save sinners, and he ended his sermon with the tenderest words that man could speak: "Behold, the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world!" Listen always to the preacher until he ends his sermon. It may be very necessary that he thrust your sins home upon your conscience until you shall feel their guilt and power. It may be necessary for him to picture to you the perils that are before you if you continue in sin. He may be constrained to open the mouth of hell at your feet and show you its smoke of torment, and compel you to listen to the cries of lost souls tormented in flame so that you may see what becomes of the man who will not forsake sin. He must insist upon your repentance. But he will not stop there. He will go on in his preaching until he shall show you the compassionate God manifesting His love for sinners, giving His own beloved Son for the ransom, to deliver you from going down into the pit. He will bring before you the suffering Lamb of God dying on the cross to take away sin; and he will show you, very tenderly, God's crimson cure for scarlet guilt, and repeat God's words in your hearing, "Come, now, and let us reason together, saith the Lord. Though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool."

Jesus as the divine Saviour must be kept before the people. In these two declarations of the text, "Lamb of God" and "Son of God," we have the gospel of salvation. God's Son is man's Redeemer. The divine Lamb bears the sin of the world. The Son of God is the Lamb of God sacrificing Himself upon the altar of the cross to save the world from sin. He must take Jesus into the pulpit upon every occasion; always hold him up before the people as the divine Saviour from sin. Upon Jesus crucified must be turned the clearest light of our preaching. He must not be hid. He must be made manifest. "We preach not ourselves, but Christ crucified." Let us focus the light on Jesus. What God wants the people to see he focuses his light on. When He would show Israel the way of escape from the seeming entanglement at the Red sea, He turned the light of the pillar of fire upon the path opened across the sea so that his people might behold the salvation of God and walk in the light of His countenance to the place of safety. When Jesus stepped out of the obscurity of Nazareth and entered upon His life work, standing at the Jordan for His divine inauguration, God turned His light upon Him. From the opened heavens streamed down the light of God shining upon Jesus. Upon Him descended the white dove, luminous with the light of God. In the brilliancy of the light of God, of Father and Holy Spirit, stood Jesus. Then there came God's voice from the opened heavens, saying, "This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased." God wanted men to see Jesus. From that moment the eyes of the Fore-runner were turned upon Jesus, and every time he saw Him, thereafter, he fastened His eyes upon him, and endeavored to turn the attention of others towards Him so that they might see Jesus as the Son of God and as the Saviour of the world, that they might "Behold the Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." At the transfiguration of Jesus there were wonderful disclosures and glorious revelations. But the objective of all of the outbursting glory was that men should see Jesus as the Son of God who would give His life to ransom men from sin. The living Moses! the living Elijah! stood revealed in glory, but each of them pointed to Jesus, and both of them conversed with Him. The theme, the only theme, of their conversation was the crucifixion of Jesus. "They spake of His decease which He should accomplish at Jerusalem." And when the great cloud filled with God came down and overshadowed all of them, they heard the voice of God saying, "This is my beloved Son; hear Him." Moses disappeared. Elijah faded from view. The cloud vanished. Peter, James and John lifted up their eyes and looked. "They saw no man save Jesus only." They needed no other. They were to look at Him. They were to listen to Him. God had focused His light upon His only begotten and dearly beloved Son. This beloved Son was to die at Jerusalem for the redemption and salvation of the world. Jesus, the Son of God, the Lamb of God, crucified upon the cross, was to be the great sight for the world to look upon, so that they might see what manner of love that the Father hath bestowed upon us that we might be saved from sin and made sons of God. The world needs to see Jesus. He must be brought to human attention more and more, and with greater emphasis. Sinful men need to know Jesus. They need to know Him as the "Son of God," mighty to save. They need to know him as the "Lamb of God," willing to save. Let it be the aim of our preaching to bring Him again and again to human attention, and endeavor every time we preach to bear witness that He is the "Son of God," and the "Lamb of God which taketh away the sin of the world." Let us do this with the desire that our hearers may become immediate disciples of our Lord. And it may be our joy as we speak to see men look at Jesus and follow Him.

And should the entire mission become refractory, the missionary shall be authorized to select them according to the provision of the Discipline for trial of churches; provided, however, that the person convicted shall in this, and in all cases where the trial is by jury, have an appeal to the Quarterly Conference of the church from which the committee of trial is selected, at the session next ensuing, whose decision shall be final.

7. Missions shall hold Quarterly Conferences

8. When a charge is preferred against any member of the church, the missionary shall see that the accused is tried in accordance with the regulations of the Discipline for the trial of members.
